

S. T. C. CELEBRATED
BEAR CAT VICTORYPICTURE SHOWS WERE 'RUSHED' BY STUDENTS

FINAL COUNT 15 TO 7

Combined Work of Bear Cats Resulted in the Victory—Team Played
Best Football Of Season

Last night the town was overrun by the victorious supporters of the Bear Cat team who were celebrating the first victory in years over the Kirksville football squad. A big mass meeting at the Courthouse square where yells and songs were given by the full 400 strong and then a parade was formed behind a truck loaded with the Maryville football players. A shirrtail ordinance was enforced by the boys.

Marching around the square they stopped at the hotel to give yells for the Bull Dog squad who were encamping there.

Following the parade the entire mass 'rushed the gates' at the Empire Theater and enjoyed a treat at the show, on the management. There a continuous uproar of yells and songs entertained the crowd until the last reel of the film when "Where do we go from here" cries were started.

The Electric's second show was next in the route of the rooters and here again the gates were rushed.

Coach Lawrence responded to the calls of the student body and gave a short talk to them, complimenting the fine school spirit and support which had been given the Bear Cats all season.

The game yesterday afternoon ended with a score of 15 to 7 in favor of Maryville. The touchdowns for Maryville were scored in the second quarter by Foreman and in the last quarter by an intercepted pass of Masters. In the third quarter O'Banion kicked a pretty dropkick from the forty yard line putting the Bear Cats in the lead.

Maryville by far outclassed the opponents in all departments of the game and would have shut the Bull Dogs out if not for a fluke when a blocked drop kick was run forty-five yards for a touchdown.

The spiking on the part of the Bear Cats was clean and hard and always helped the man carrying the ball to gain five to ten yards.

In the last quarter Kirksville was desperate for a score and opened up on forward passes. A few of these were completed but most of them were knocked down. When the final whistle blew Maryville was within ten yards of the goal and were headed for another touchdown.

Wilson perhaps gained the most ground for the Bear Cats with the aid of the interference on end runs but it was the combined efforts of the entire team that netted the victory. Richards was hurt in the third quarter and Hays substituted for him. The "Big Boy" was in most every play and spoiled all of the Kirksville attempts to gain on his side of the line. Hays played the same way. Kirby caught the Kirksville man behind his line on numerous occasions and threw the man for a big loss.

Eads was playing a new position, that at end, but held down the far position fine. Hay on the other extreme played his usual sensational game. Graham and England played steady games at guards and held on the defense.

Captain Foreman and Masters gained through the Kirksville line on most every attempt and kept plowing with two or three men hanging on. O'Banion's passing was accurate but his punting far outdistanced the Kirksville man. His drop kick placed the Maryville squad in the lead.

On Football Fields Yesterday.

Springfield Teachers College, 32;

Culver Stockton, 2.

William Jewell, 32; Drury, 0.

Missouri Wesleyan, 16; Warrensburg, 7.

Missouri Valley, 9; Westminster 0.

Shenandoah Defeat.

Last week Shenandoah, Iowa, and St. Joseph Central played a 20 to 20 game. This week the Iowa team was defeated 114 to 0 by Cedar Rapids, Ia.

This shows the comparative strength of the teams in this district with other locations.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Brumbaugh of Maitland came today to spend the week end with their son, G. E. Brumbaugh and family.

Baby Beef Show Prize Winner

—Photo Courtesy St. Joseph News-Press.

Maurice Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Berg, 302 South Main street, and his Black Angus calf, prize winner in the Aberdeen Angus class at the Baby Beef Show held in St. Joseph this week. This calf brought $26 a hundred pounds at the auction held Wednesday.

L. H. C. QUILTS ITS EDUCATIONAL WORK

WITHDRAWS VITALIZED AGRICULTURAL CHAMPION

IS BIG DISAPPOINTMENT

Work Of Cooper Demonstrates What the Holden Scheme Had In Promise For Rural Schools

The following article appeared in the Journal of Education of October 11, and was written by Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of this magazine which is published at Boston, Mass.

The article follows:
We can recall nothing that has been quite so professionally depressing as the conditions which made it advisable for the International Harvester Company to discontinue the educational extension work, which included the withdrawal of the field champions of Vitalized Agriculture, which Professor P. G. Holden had started so gloriously. We have known nothing in educational progress that had so much of promise for rural and suburban schools as had Professor Holden's plan for rotation of agricultural subjects in school when the crusade was called off.

The vitality of the plan has been abundantly demonstrated in several places without any outside aid. Professor Orson Ryan in Logan, Utah, has kept the interest at white heat, and this year he will have an article each of the months in the Popular Educator, Boston, which is by far the best presentation of the whole subject in action that has been published since Professor Holden ceased aggressive leadership.

An even better demonstration of the vitality and virility of the Holden scheme is the work being done by Bert Cooper at Teachers College, Maryville, Missouri. I was greatly impressed with the wonderful work in Nodaway county, Missouri, Maryville's County, when Bert Cooper was county superintendent, and wrote of it exuberantly, and on the faculty of Teachers College, Maryville, he has continued to magnify Vitalized Agriculture and its rotation features with the same success that he had in the Nodaway County schools.

This year he and his associates in the college work have twelve extension courses in the Maryville College district, and in the summer after the college term ended Professor Cooper carried the message of Vitalized Agriculture to Nebraska, where he had several short courses in which the teachers were so interested in the work that they stayed every night till 10 o'clock.

Miss Dow Leaves Hospital
Miss Blanche Dow was dismissed today from St. Francis Hospital where she has been taking treatment for a week for an infected lip. Her condition is very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crossan of Fairfax visited in Maryville today.

WINNERS QUITMAN
FAIR ANNOUNCED

MISS THOMPSON WINS DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

1ST PRIZE TO TARPLEY

Maryville People Judge Exhibits and Declamatory Contest—Hogs are Judged This Morning.

Displays of sewing, farm and garden products, fruits, and live stock were exhibited yesterday and today at the two-day school fair at Quitman. Nine schools of the Quitman Consolidated School entered products in the show and the judgments made yesterday. L. H. Brownfield, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce said today that the schools had exceptionally good displays entered in the show. A declamatory contest in which six schools had representatives was held in connection with the school fair last evening.

Lois Margaret Thompson of the Royster school won the declamatory contest, Edna McGinnis of the Tarpley school was second. Six contestants entered with declamations. Each one was given ten minutes. Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, presented the loving cup to the winner and gave a talk in connection. The judges of the contest were L. H. Brownfield, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, Miss Anna Houston of the State Teachers College and Prof. Harry Hewitt, superintendent of the Clearmont schools.

The contest was held at the Methodist Church at Quitman and the church was crowded.

A musical entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental solos was given during the program. Superintendent Garrett was chairman during the evening entertainment.

The judges of the exhibits that were displayed by the nine different schools of the Quitman Consolidated School were A. H. Cooper, W. H. Burr, Miss Frances Hann and Miss Anna Houston all of the State Teachers College. The exhibits were on display at one of the large store rooms in the town.

L. H. Brownfield and G. K. Arney, vocational agriculture instructor of the Maryville High School, went to Quitman this morning to judge the hogs. Tarpley School was awarded the first prize of $20 for the best booth. Butler School won second and was given $10; the third prize of $5 went to Royster.

The winners of the various exhibits announced this morning are:

Best centerpiece—Opal Cooper.
Best dresser scarf—Maxine Nichols.

Best child's dress—Mary Neely.
Best towel—Lois Thompson.
Best child's apron—Lois Thompson.
Best handkerchief—Lois Thompson.
Best pair of pillow slips—Lucile Duncan.

Best yoke—Nellie Jones.
Best scarf end—Mary Spangler.
Best yard of lace—Verna Owens.

(Continued on page 6)

SPOOFHOUNDS BEAT
IN LAST QUARTERTARKIO'S FORWARD PASSES
SPELL FIRST DEFEAT OF YEAR

NON-CONFERENCE GAME

Miller and Alely Forced Out Of Game
By Injuries Slowed Down Maryville
Offense—No Alibi Offered

The Maryville High School football team was defeated at Tarkio yesterday by a score of 14 to 12.

Victory was snatched from the hands of Maryville in the last quarter by sensational forward passes which netted Tarkio two touchdowns and put them two points in the lead. The game was a non-conference game for the Maryville squad and so the standing of the Maryville Spoofhounds is still 100% in the championship contest.

Tarkio comes to Maryville for a game November 23.

Even with the disadvantage Maryville was put under they were in the lead until the injuries of Harold Miller and George Alely forced them from the game. Vode Willoughby at quarterback also had some of his teeth knocked loose by ways foreign to true football.

In the first half a forward pass to Cockayne scored the first touchdown for Maryville and soon after Ogden returned a punt for another counter. Both times Ogden failed to kick goal for the Spoofhounds. A safety in the first half gave Tarkio two points.

No alibi is offered by Coach Ebert for the Maryville defeat, it was taken in a true sportsmanship manner and all eyes are turned forward to the coming contest where a victory for the Maryville squad will even up the count.

Maryville has a fairly easy game with King City on the local gridiron next Friday.

Gowdy, a graduate of the Tarkio High School and College was the referee.

Impeachment Charges
Submitted on MondayTo Include Charges Against Governor
J. C. Walton and Other High
Officials of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 20.—The impeachment charges of the House of Representatives against Governor J. C. Walton and other high state officials will be filed Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by the House probing committee, chairman Wesley Disney announced today.

Disney also announced that evidence given by several witnesses appearing before the investigating committee would be turned over to the Oklahoma county attorney for submission to a grand jury now in session. Perjury will be the charges against these witnesses.

Japs Kill Chinese
Soldiers in Battle

Shanghai, Oct. 20.—Chinese soldiers, attempting to board a Japanese steamer, were met by a deadly rain of machine gun fire here this morning. Many boats were sunk and fifty Chinese soldiers were either killed or drowned. Chinese soldiers on shore returned the fire, wounding three Japanese.

Divorce Suit Is Filed
by Mrs. Emma E. GrossMrs. Emma E. Gross has filed a suit of divorce against Charles A.
Gross in the October term of Circuit Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross were married in Doniphan County, Kan., September 30, 1909. In the petition for divorce the plaintiff claims that her husband has abandoned and deserted her for the past year. She asks for divorce and that her maiden name of Emma E. Sewell be restored by the court. The plaintiff has for the past year been a resident of Nodaway County.

Is Visiting Here.

D. J. Howell of Cheyenne, Wyo., arrived in Maryville this morning for a few days' visit here with friends. Mr. Howell had been attending a meeting at Chicago and stopped off here on his way home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Raines and daughter, Laura Margaret, will motor to Tarkio tomorrow to spend the day with Mrs. Raines' mother, Mrs. T. J. Emmert.

COOPER TO TALK
ABOUT COOLIDGEAT BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES
TOMORROW EVENING.

OFFICE OF LITTLE NOTICE

Minister Says Election to Vice-Presidency Is Regarded as Consignment to Oblivion.

The Rev. Joseph A. Cooper, pastor of the Baptist Church, will speak on "President Coolidge and Practical Idealism," at the evening service of this church tomorrow night.

In discussing this theme, the Reverend Mr. Cooper said this morning: "It is a common place that to be elected to the vice-presidency of the United States is to be consigned to oblivion. Of all the men in high office in this government none is commonly so little known as the man who presides over the Senate, the 'second man' on the ticket, the man who is destined to be President in case anything happens to the chief executive."

"If this obscurity is the lot of all of our vice-presidents it obtained with particular force to Mr. Coolidge during his occupancy of that office, owing to his well known reticence, to his shrinking from the 'lime light,' to his objection to prominence. There was a general impression during the campaign before nomination that Mr. Coolidge was a very strong man, that in intellect he was probably a keener man than Mr. Harding, that he was 'safe and sane.' But following the election the eyes and thought of the nation were upon Mr. Harding, and Mr. Coolidge went the way of all of our vice-presidents."

"With the death of Mr. Harding, Mr. Coolidge jumped from obscurity to first prominence, literally from the farm house in New England to the White House in Washington. From a position of secondary importance he was thrust into the office of the 'greatest autocrat' in the world, if Mr. Lloyd George be right in his interpretation of our Presidency. For the first time since the election we began to try to analyze his character, to get at his gifts, to find out who our new President really is."

"A conclusion upon these matters was all the harder because of the nature of Mr. Coolidge, to which reference has been made above. He was ready to listen, but he had little to say; he was attentive, but quiet; he met delegation after delegation, shook hands with them, and left them wondering. Just lately with the wet and dry issue occupying more and more of the public attention, he met fifteen hundred delegates to the 'Enforcement Convention,' but refused to take advantage of what seemed to be an unusual opportunity to express his attitude upon the enforcement of the Volstead Act; he was waiting, they said, for the conference of governors. 'In the light of these facts the first speech of the new President becomes one of unusual significance. It was delivered before the annual convention of the American Red Cross and had for its theme 'Practical Idealism.' We feel that it was important enough to justify an evening of thought upon it, and in our service tomorrow night we shall attempt to analyze it and through it to make some judgments upon the character of our President."

Wood Orders Troops
to Seat of Uprisings

Manila, Oct. 20.—Alarming reports from officers concerning the Moro uprising caused General Wood this afternoon to order two companies to proceed immediately to Minandao on a steamship. The exact nature of the reports was not made public.

J. R. Quinn Begins Work
Commander of LegionWill Succeed Alvin Owsley Of Texas
—To Carry Out Program Outlined
By Recent Convention

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—While thousands of delegates to the fifth annual convention of the American Legion were returning to their homes today, J. R. Quinn formerly assumed command of the Legion and began the launching of the task of carrying out the Legion's program as outlined here.

Quinn, coming from behind in the most thrilling election in the history of the Legion, was chosen chief of the fighting men to succeed Alvin Owsley of Texas. The new commander is a native of California and is 34 years old. He is a veteran of the 91st Division.

Leaves Hospital.

Miss Ada Albert was removed today from St. Francis hospital to the Graham home on South Buchanan street. Her condition remains about the same.

Man Burned to Death
After All-night BattleOfficers and Militiamen Riddle House with Bullets, But Man Did Not Give Himself Up

Alexandria, Minn., Oct. 20.—After an all night battle in which he stood off a score of deputies and militiamen, who riddled his home with bullets and attempted to gas him with amonia, Edward Larson, 38, went to his death today after his residence was burned to the ground at the order of the sheriff and county prosecutor. During the battle, William Ransden, 35, a former service man, was shot and killed.

Larson was wanted for the murder of Jacob Lay, 60, a citizen who, it is alleged, was killed late yesterday. Throughout the night, a steady rifle fire was punctuated now and then by the sullen sounds of a shotgun.

TELLS GOVERNORS
OF RESPONSIBILITYMUST CO-OPERATE IN LAW EN-FORCEMENT, COOLIDGE SAYS.

QUESTION NOT POLITICAL

People Must Look to Communities for Protection Against Lawless
Element of Citizens.

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Coolidge told the governors of thirty-odd states at the White House this afternoon that it is much their duty to enforce the prohibition law as it is the duty of the federal government. He told them that the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act conferred joint responsibility upon the state and nation.

"Enforcement of the prohibition law," the President said, "is not a political question and cannot be made a political question."

Every line of the President's brief speech to the governors whom he had invited to the White House, stressed the fact that law enforcement is not the particular function of the federal government, but of the states, counties and cities, and it is to the community, in the long run, he said, that "law-abiding people must look for protection against the lawless element that smuggles booze, narcotics and aliens and have no right to enter the United States."

Washington, Oct. 20.—Governors who came to the White House today for a conference with President Coolidge on law enforcement will be told plainly that enforcement of federal laws, affecting prohibition, narcotics and immigration, is as much up to them as it is the federal government. Federal officers from Mr. Coolidge on down, will appeal to them for adequate co-operation.

After luncheon as the guest of the President, the governors will be addressed by the chief executive who will outline the purpose and scope of the parley.

Wood Orders Troops
to Seat of Uprisings

Manila, Oct. 20.—Alarming reports from officers concerning the Moro uprising caused General Wood this afternoon to order two companies to proceed immediately to Minandao on a steamship. The exact nature of the reports was not made public.

J. R. Quinn Begins Work
Commander of LegionWill Succeed Alvin Owsley Of Texas
—To Carry Out Program Outlined
By Recent Convention

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—While thousands of delegates to the fifth annual convention of the American Legion were returning to their homes today, J. R. Quinn formerly assumed command of the Legion and began the launching of the task of carrying out the Legion's program as outlined here.

Quinn, coming from behind in the most thrilling election in the history of the Legion, was chosen chief of the fighting men to succeed Alvin Owsley of Texas. The new commander is a native of California and is 34 years old. He is a veteran of the 91st Division.

Leaves Hospital.

Miss Ada Albert was removed today from St. Francis hospital to the Graham home on South Buchanan street. Her condition remains about the same.

GERMANY CEASES
ALL WAGE CREDITSIS OFFICIAL ENDING TO PASSIVE RESISTANCE IN RUHR

WIRES EVERY ENVOY

Instructs Them To Point Out Gravity
Of Present Situation In Ruhr—
To Point Out Cause

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The German government today telegraphed instructions to its envoys in Washington and the capitals of European countries to point out the extreme gravity of the Ruhr situation.

The envoys were also instructed to point out the cause leading up to the situation.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear on Chancellor Stresemann to renounce the Versailles treaty. Stresemann, however, strongly opposes such a course.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The Berlin government today ceased all wage credits to the German workers in the Ruhr, officially ending passive resistance against the French-Belgian occupation. It is feared that a terrific social and economic crisis may follow.

The government has been pouring billions of marks into the Ruhr weekly since it was occupied, to support workers whether they worked or not.

Zev Defeated Papyrus in Sensational RaceCloudy Day and Slow Track Made Zev
4 to 5 Favorite Over Papyrus
The English Enter
(Special By Radio)

Zev won the international classic race this afternoon defeating Papyrus, the English horse, in a sensational mile and a half run. Zev was the horse chosen by the New York Jockey club to defend the honors of the American race horses in the $100,000 match race over Papyrus, winner of many events on English soil.

The American horse was handicapped by a skin malady which made its appearance two days ago. Zev raced under a cloudy sky and on account of the slow track was a 4 to 5 favorite over the English three year old colt. The time was not given.

Orioles Beat Kansas
City 7 to 6 Today

The Kansas City Blues went down to defeat today at the hand of the Baltimore Orioles in the first game of the Little Series played at Baltimore. This was the fifth game of the series; Kansas City has won three and Baltimore two games. Two home-runs were made by the Orioles, Bishop, second baseman and Sheedy, first baseman knocked out circuit clouts.

Both teams used two pitchers. Ogden replaced Parnham on the mound for Baltimore and Thormahlen relieved Zenn for the Blues. Kansas City has four more chances to win two games in order to clinch the series.

The score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R. H. E.
K. C. 0 0 0 0 0 1 5 0—6 11 1
Baltimore 0 0 4 0 1 1 0 1 x—7 9 0
Kansas City battery—Zinn, pitcher; Skiff, catcher.

Baltimore battery—Parnham, pitcher; Styles, catcher.

Evans Trying Evasion of Bankruptcy Petition

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Charles ("Chick") Evans, golf champion, was trying today to find some means to keep him from filing a voluntary petition in bankruptcy he has already prepared. In announcing he was "stone broke," Evans listed his liabilities as $200,000 and assets at $50,000. Bad speculation is given as the cause of his financial ruin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnes of Blanchard, Ia., and the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Wagner and son, James of Maryville returned last evening from Kansas City, where they drove Sunday to visit Mrs. Ella Montpelier, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parker, and other relatives and friends.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Sunday; somewhat colder tonight in the south portion; heavy frost to-night.

THE DEMOCRAT-FORUM

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Entered as second class matter June 4, 1884, at the postoffice at Maryville, Mo., under the act of March 3, 1879.

PUBLISHED BY
M. G. VAN OLEVIE
M. G. VAN OLEVIE, Editor
M. G. VAN OLEVIE, SuperintendentPUBLISHED BY Maryville Publishing Company
(Incorporated.)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carrier, per week 12c
By Carrier, per month, strictly in advance 80c
By Carrier, per year, strictly in advance $8.00

By Mail, within the State of Missouri, per month 85c
By Mail, within the State of Missouri, per year $8.50
By Mail, outside the State of Missouri, per year $9.00

LARGEST CIRCULATION
IN NODAWAY COUNTY

COMPULSORY VOTING.

From the New York Herald.

New York City's low registration figures reflect a well recognized difficulty in democratic government—indifference of citizens. Instead of exercising the franchise as a privilege and a duty many citizens in every election fail to go to the polls. This indifference seems to be growing. Whereas 80% of the citizens having the qualifications to register in the United States east ballots in the presidential election of 1880, only 74 per cent did so in 1900. State and local elections are even more slimly attended, as a rule, than are national contests.

Although the adoption of various schemes to compel voting in the United States has been discussed for more than fifty years, no state has enacted one into law. New York state declined to accept the idea in 1872, when the constitutional commission voted down this amendment:

"That the neglect of any qualified voter to vote at any general or municipal election, unless prevented by necessary absence or physical disability, shall be a misdemeanor punishable by fine of not less than $10, to be used for the support of the poor."

Illinois has tried to encourage voting by providing that jurymen shall be drawn from the list of nonvoters, but the obvious inconsistency in making the avoidance of one civic duty a ground for preference in another has deterred other states from following that example.

In several other nations the problem has been attacked directly. Five Austrian provinces, since 1907, have levied fines from 1 to 50 crowns for "neglect to vote without recognized excuse, such as sickness or lack of transport." That law was pushed through by the Christian Socialist party on the ground that the exercise of the franchise is a public and social duty.

Czecho-Slovakia has stringent compulsory voting regulations. Every qualified citizen less than 70 years old, who, without reasonable excuse, fails to take part in any election, is liable to a fine of from twenty to 5,000 crowns and imprisonment of from one day to one month. Other countries with penalties for nonvoting are the Netherlands, Spain and Argentina. The experience of these countries indicates that while such a law is effective at first it is difficult to enforce and gradually loses its influence.

American writers on political science are divided on the merits of compulsory voting laws. McLaughlin and Hart in their "Cyclopedia of American Government" bring out this interesting point:

"Managers and candidates would be spared an enormous amount of work and money, often verging upon corruption, and an end might be put to one of the most pernicious forms of bribery, the paying of voters not to vote."

In the opinion of several authorities the most logical penalty for nonvoting is disfranchisement until the offender purges himself by means of a fine. It is also suggested that the publication of a list of nonvoters might have a salutary effect. The difficulties of enforcing drastic measures are recognized to be great.

One way to get the people to the polls is to make their participation in politics simple and easy. A means to this end is the short ballot, which concentrates public interest on a few personalities and a few issues, instead of diffusing it among many. Compulsory voting legislation is a poor substitute for genuine voter interest. Yet unless voters rally to the polls as they should the subject may become a live subject of discussion.

Some people give according to their means and some according to their meanness.

The old adage may now be revised to "people who live in glass couples should not throw stones."

One of the interesting features of the presidential race is the vice presidential band wagon race.

SCATTERING THE MILLIONS

Millionaires have different ideas about distributing their surplus. A few days ago Millionaire Loose of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company, died and left more than a million dollars to be spent in alleviating the sufferings and needs of the unfortunate who are not the recipients of organized charity. It will help to buy food and clothing for thousands of honest but unfortunate people.

At the same time another millionaire is enacting a part nauseating to all decent people. He too is dissipating his millions but he has adopted another plan. He has engaged an army of lawyers and an army of witnesses to scandalize and besmirch his family name for a longer period than he will live. Charges of perjury and malicious and premeditated design to blacken the character of the woman to whom he gave his name are freely made.

Last year a similar scene was enacted in New York by another man of millions in which hundreds of thousands were spent to destroy the good reputation of the woman whom he had pledged to honor, if not to love and obey.

If these men could not live happily with their wives, they could have let them go their ways in a peaceful settlement that would have at least preserved the decency of the family name. The lawyers may be able to distribute the money to somebody's benefit but to simple minded respectability the method of Mr. Loose will always appeal while the other will only arouse disgust.

The man who keeps quiet is not often misquoted.

Judge Reeves of the Federal Court gave the bootleggers and hooch dealers of Jefferson City something to think about last week when he ordered nine buildings closed and padlocked for a year. Even the mayor of the city was not spared. The best way yet devised to put the fear of God in the heart of the respectable citizen who aids the law breaker by furnishing him a building for his business is the padlock. The incentive generally is a comparatively high rent and this incentive loses its charm in the face of the padlock. The Jefferson City case also emphasizes another point. It may not be the business of the Federal Government to assume obligations that belong to the state but, when it does get busy, it gets results.

MISSOURI A DAIRY STATE.

Missouri is tomorrow's dairy center of America.

Missouri was the 7th in total amount of cream sold in 1919.

Missouri was 12th in total value of dairy products in 1919.

Missouri stands 3rd in number of owners of purebred Jersey cattle, but 5th in total number of Jerseys.

Missouri in 1919 was 22nd in total of milk sold—but there has been a radical change since then.

Missouri stands 1st in recent speediness of development and percentage of increase in high grade and purebred dairy cattle.

Jasper County is the home of more owners of purebred Jersey cattle breeders than any other county in the United States.—Missouri in Paragraphs.

EUDORA ITEMS.

Myrl and Dessie Short of Burlington Junction, came Saturday and stayed until Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Short and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Short spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Short and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Baker of Clearmont, visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Baker Sunday.

Mr. W. E. Dawson and family spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Short and family, Sunday.

Jessie Pennington, 16 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pennington, fell from a tree Sunday and broke his right arm.

Miss Lucy Dawson, daughter of Mr. W. E. Dawson, went to Ina Allen's Saturday morning to work for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cooper of Wilcox spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Cooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Allen of Burlington Junction, Missouri.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Barr, October 7, a baby girl.

Mrs. Mary Peters died at her home in Burlington Junction, Saturday evening. Mrs. Peters had been in poor health for some time.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at one o'clock at the Christian church in Burlington Junction, Mo. The infant son of Ina Allen has been very ill.

W. E. Dawson is the owner of a new Chevrolet touring car.

Frank Potts of Greeley, Colo., is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Ellen Dobson of Tarkio, is visiting her brother Mr. and Mrs. Baker this trip.

Bunney & Russell, Albert Wyatt had bogs on sale from Nodaway county at St. Joseph yesterday.

Fifty Years Ago

(Taken from the Nodaway Democrat, Oct. 16, 1873.)

On Sunday next, a funeral sermon in commemoration of Mrs. Nash, late of Union Township, deceased, will be preached by the Reverend Mr. Clemens of Andrew County, at Xenia. Services at 11 o'clock a. m.

Rock Port, Atchison County, recently had a $10,000 fire, supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

On last Friday, a week ago, the house of John M. Busby, some seven miles south of Maryville, was struck by lightning and Mr. Busby and family, besides other parties in the house, were severely shocked but luckily nobody fatally injured. Our informant says that a large portion of one end of the building was completely torn out.

We have in our office a sample of cotton grown the past season on the farm of L. H. Case, south of town. Of course, it is not so fine a staple as that grown in Mississippi, but still it's cotton and home production.

Last week, we inadvertently failed to mention that Mr. Thomas Shoemaker of the Valley House is now running a line of stages between Maryville and Albany by way of Conception and Mount Pleasant. These stages leave the Valley House on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and return on the alternate days. This line runs in connection with trains on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs railroad and under the efficient and clever management of Mr. Shoemaker offers, by far, the best route to passengers desirous of reaching Albany or Gentry County.

Last week, we neglected to call attention to the new card of J. M. Hosmer, auctioneer. Mr. Hosmer has had large experience in the auction business, in selling all kinds of property, particularly stock and farm products, and he guarantees satisfaction.

Twenty Years Ago

The Nodaway Teachers Association convenes in Maryville today. There is a good attendance.

Engineer George Custer and his party are pushing the work of survey on the Maryville, Parnell and St. Joseph Electric railroad.

Judge W. C. Ellison has resigned as member of the school board and Probate Judge Tompkins has been chosen in his place.

A very interesting meeting of the Maryville Book Club was held at the Reading Room last Friday night. The following officers were elected for the new year which begins November first: Mrs. Anderson Craig, president; Mrs. C. Q. Smith, secretary; Mr. Fred Kurf, treasurer. These officers with Judge Vinsonhaler, Mrs. J. B. Morrison and Mrs. S. R. Beech form the book committee. The club is now entering its sixth year.

Dr. H. E. Robinson of the Republican is out this week with some other members of the State Board of Charities visiting the eleemosynary institutions of the state.

Capt. I. V. McMillan, Adolph Stauble and Ed Hamlin left Monday evening for St. Louis to attend the Grand Lodge of Masons of Missouri. Capt. McMillan is grand marshal of the grand lodge.

New corn is worth 40 cents in Maryville and oats 30.

W. R. Tilson has leased the Bus Barn, half block south of Democrat office, and is prepared to do transient feeding.

Forumettes

A lot of us try to Give the impression
We know a lot about things
We know nothing about.

A cynical bachelor says love leads a man to invest a woman with all the virtues of an angel but marriage shows him that he made a mistake.

Uncle Abner, the town philosopher, says there are more self unmade men than self made men.

The doctrine of "infant damnation" is no longer adhered to a religious student friend tells us. If he lived next door to six or seven of them who howl all night he might change his mind.

A scientist says the fewer garments people wear the longer they will live. If this is true it will be necessary to shoot some of those flappers on judgment day.—Wilson Democrat.

The observer of the passer-by in Maryville told us the other day that he knew a girl who cared nothing for clothes or money. "Who?" we asked in surprise. "My neighbor's six weeks' old daughter," he slyly replied.

When the neighbor women can't think of anything else mean to say of another woman they remark that she can never make her curtains hang straight.

If you are not an optimist by nature be one by choice.

Fame is fleeting. If you don't believe it just look at a copy of the paper of about three years ago and see how many of the names featured in the motion picture advertisements are still in the list of stars.

Louise, the stenographer, says some men have more trouble getting started on cold mornings than autos.

The double breasted vest has made its appearance and a friend at a Main street store tells us he expects many of the bounders will wear it.

President Creighton of Georgetown university recently said that a man should not get married unless he had an income of $4,000 a year. Many a man can tell him that figure is too low.

Our idea of a foolish person is a letter carrier who spends his day off talking a long walk.

Our neighbor says he thinks garages should be built with doors which close themselves. He says he forgets to shut his doors almost every night.

He made a batch of brew Then he took a drink or two. His funeral was well attended But that was not what he intended.

—woodyard Kindling.

We bet if they would have all women juries to try those pretty man killers you would not read so many acquittals.

Before he married her he was proud to say that she was pensive. After he married her he had to admit she was expensive.

There is no more futile quest than hunting for something for nothing.

All of us can remember the old junk man with his collection of cheap tinware, which he traded for the housewife's collection of rags, bones, bottles and other junk. He is gone.

Vagrant Musings.

A single fast is worth a cartload of argument.

Have you ever noticed that a hard boiled egg is yellow inside. So is a hardboiled man.

There are no better friends than a lazy man and a comfortable chair. Looking for Heaven in the skies keeps a lot of us from finding it on earth.

In the game of love the loser frequently is the winner.

Today's Vaudeville Patter.

Biff—It is my ambition to die rich. Bang—Living rich would suit me all right.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

The Queen of Autumn Flowers Fresh cut daily $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00 per dozen, according to size of blooms. Also plenty of Engelmann's fresh cut Roses, Carnations, Dahlias, etc. Special with our bulb sale while they last at these prices, best cut Flower Peonies, strong roots, 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

"Say It With Flowers."

ALFRED ENGELMANN

The Florist.

1001 So. Main. Phones 17.

Motor tourists plowed up the wet roads today and tomorrow will complain because the same highways are not race tracks.—Kansas City Star.

We stopped, looked and listened, but even then some bloomin' idiot bumped into our rear.—Atchison Kan. Globe.

It would be a fine tribute to a remarkable man if the United States would present Lloyd George with a hair cut and shave.—Kansas City Kansan.

3 BIG DAYS of AEROPLANE Stunts - Races

Greatest exhibition of dare-devil stunt flying, racing, wing walking, and parachute jumping ever staged

at ST. JOSEPH

Thursday, Friday and Sat. of next week

OCTOBER 25-26-27

ROSECRANS FIELD

Just East of Race Track
At Lake Contrary

30 minutes from city by street cars

Ample parking space for Autos

50 AEROPLANES - 50 FLYERS

100 Mile and 110 Mile Races Round 5 Mile Course
Which Will Be In Full View Of Spectators At All Times

$2350.00 in prizes
for most daring stunts!

COME

50 planes in the air
ALL at one time!

ADMISSION 50c

PLUS 5c WAR TAX

SOCIETY

Entertains S. S. Class

Mrs. Maggie Thompson entertained the girls in her Sunday School class of the M. E. Church, South, after school Thursday afternoon at the Yehle tea room. The time was spent socially and refreshments were served. Members of the class are Maxine Holt, Viola Henderson, Joyce Johnson, Lela Maul, Lucy Lloyd, Maxine Overmire, Elizabeth Edwards, Mary Still and Frances Still.

Entertains at Dinner

Mrs. Emma DeMoss and daughter, Elizabeth, entertained several of the latter's friends at 6 o'clock dinner last evening at their home, 222 South Walnut street. The house was decorated with garden flowers, and following the dinner music and games were enjoyed. These guests were invited: Lois Mae Rilea, Lois Hull, Vivian Miller, Lucy and Clarence Lloyd, Beth Briggs, Helen Gaugh and Earl Hollar.

Mrs. Null Hostess

The I. X. L. Embroidery Club was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bert Null on South Buchanan street. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. E. T. Rasmussen of Riverton, Neb.; Miss Ora Eckles, Mrs. Will Foster, Edna Belle Welborn and Marguerite Curfman, and there were thirteen members present. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Eckles and Mrs. Foster. The next meeting will be held November 7 at the home of Mrs. Ed Otis on East First street.

Homemakers Class

The October meeting of the Homemakers Class of the M. E. Church, South, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Henderson on West Fifth street, with Mrs. N. F. Humber as assisting hostess. Garden flowers were used throughout the rooms and the Halloween colors prevailed in the house decorations and refreshments. A short business session was held and it was decided to hold a market next Saturday, October 27. The program opened with a piano duet, by Mrs. C. E. Williams and daughter, Merea, and Viola Henderson accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ed Daley sang two solos. A reading was given by Mrs. T. H. Leet and Mrs. M. E. Farrar gave a talk on "Indian Summer." Sixteen members and the following guests were present: Miss Bertha Beal, Mrs. Lillian Seelman, Mrs. M. L. Shemwell, Mrs. Ellen Leet, Mrs. Mahala Burns, Mrs. George Bowman, Mrs. Laura Morris, Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. S. A. Faubion, Merea Williams and Charlotte, Helen and Barbara Leet.

Bloomfield Needlework Club

The Bloomfield Needlework Club held an all-day quilting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Byron Hanna. Two quilts were completed and a cafeteria dinner was served at noon. Names were drawn for the Christmas exchange. The visitors for the day were Mrs. Jess Fisher, Mrs. W. B. Hanna and Misses Clair and Ethylin Hanna. The members present were Mrs. Joseph Lamport, Mrs. Elmer Hanna and son, Billy, Miss Della Mc-

Neal, Mrs. Glade Wiley and daughter, Marceline, Mrs. George Hantze, Mrs. J. H. Hanna, Mrs. Anna Hollensbe and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. Lee Birkenholz, Mrs. Charles Carmichael and son, Earl, Mrs. Allen Burks and son, Billy, Mrs. Burleigh Swalley and son, Joseph, Mrs. Burleigh Gray and daughter, Arcelle, Mrs. Oland Ringold, Mrs. Bryan Hanna and sons, Curtis, Charles and Robert, and the hostess and sons, Chester and Lester. Another all-day meeting will be held October 25 at the home of Mrs. George Hantze.

Sunday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lutgen of Bedford entertained at Sunday dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Will Broyles and children of Bedford, who are going to move to their new home near Mt. Airy. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Will Broyles and children, Eldon, Ina, Eva Irene and Billy Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe O'Donnell, Clarence Dunn and J. D. Teley of Maryville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lutgen and children, Agnes, Richard, Jane and Catherine.

B. B. Club

The B. B. Club of the Scudder neighborhood held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Russell yesterday. The women spent the time in making quilts and two comforts were completed. At a short business meeting which was held it was decided to have a club meeting every two weeks during the winter. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Nettie Brown, six miles southeast of Maryville. At noon the hostess served a lunch.

Those present at the meeting yesterday were: Mrs. Frank Gray and son, Curtis Dean, Mrs. Joseph Skidmore, Mrs. Marion Ripley, Mrs. Albert Carr, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. Fred Wyatt and son, Trevis, Mrs. Ben Neal, Mrs. Don Kingery, Mrs. Gilliland, Mrs. Charley Moore, Mrs. C. A. Hopp, Mrs. George Wray, Mrs. W. Y. Cox, Miss Nellie Cox and Mrs. Nettie Brown.

To Annual Convention

Mrs. Emma Eckles, Mrs. Mary Hook, Mrs. H. E. Wright and Miss Emma Hull will go to Des Moines, Ia., next Wednesday to attend the annual convention of the Des Moines Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Eckles and Mrs. Hook go as delegates from the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, and Miss Hull will represent the Young Woman's Society. Mrs. Wright is corresponding secretary of the Des Moines Branch.

For Mrs. Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Ray entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening in honor of their daughter, Mrs. W. B. Johnson. Additional guests were Miss Elizabeth Cox and Dr. C. M. Cline. Mrs. Johnson left this morning for her new home in Ottawa, Kan., and was joined in Kansas City by Mr. Johnson.

An oyster supper was given Thursday evening at the Ray home as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Johnson. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ray and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ray and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bartlett and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Ray and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hopp and family and Miss Edna Coffin.

Campfire Supper

A campfire supper will be given tomorrow evening at the College Park for the Oklahoma students at the State Teachers College and a few additional friends. The party will include Misses Blanche Woodward and Vera MacLeod of Tyrone, Okla., Leonard Pittman, Gordon Fowler and Frank Mowery of Gypsum, Okla., Misses Marie and Katherine Chandler and R. J. Worley.

Halloween Party

The beginning Smith-Hughes club will give a Halloween party tonight in the high school laboratory for members of the advanced Smith-Hughes club. Halloween decorations will be used and sensational stunts will be enjoyed. A color scheme of black and yellow will prevail in the refreshments. Miss Elizabeth Leet and Miss Mabel Cook, home economics instructors, will act as chaperones. About forty-eight persons are expected.

Plans for Farmers Picnic Here Oct. 27

Tentative plans for the program and awarding of premiums were discussed at a committee meeting of farmers of the M. F. A. and the Farmers Union for Farmers' Day, which will be held in Maryville a week from today, October 27. The meeting was held in the county court rooms of the court house. James Lynch of Conception gave a talk explaining the plans for the day.

Two hundred and fifty dollars will be awarded in premiums. All the farm clubs and farmers union organizations are expected to have floats in a parade that will start at 10 o'clock in the morning. Mayor W. O. Garrett is expected to give a welcome address in the College auditorium at 11 o'clock in the morning. The principal speakers in the afternoon as announced by Mr. Lynch this afternoon are: Mrs. George Kent, Osgood, Mo., who is connected with the W. P. F. A.; Milo Reno of Farmers Union of Iowa and George M. Kelley, vice-president of the M. F. A. of Tipton.

At the meeting it was urged to have as many organizations of farmers present at the Farmers Day that could possibly be present. A basket dinner will be held at noon and the afternoon program starts at 1 o'clock.

The Exchanges and Clubs that have floats in the parade will be represented by the members following the float. The county association is putting up the money for the premiums.

More than a dozen representative farmers of the county were present at the meeting this afternoon. A complete program will be given later.

County Basketball Scores

Skidmore at Quitman: Quitman boys, 22; Skidmore boys, 17.
Guilford at Barnard: Guilford boys, 34; Barnard boys, 16.
Parnell at Ravenwood: Parnell girls, 21; Ravenwood girls, 1. Parnell boys, 16; Ravenwood boys, 6.

Mrs. Robert York and little daughter, Lorayne, of McLeansboro, Ill., who have been spending a few days at the home of the former's mother-in-law, Mrs. B. F. Tarpley, left Tuesday to visit Mrs. York's sister in Grena, Neb.

Mrs. Gillam Slightly Better.
Mrs. Forrest Gillam, who has been critically ill at St. Francis hospital since the birth of a daughter yesterday morning, was slightly improved today but she is not yet out of danger. Mrs. Gillam underwent a Caesarian operation.

Phillip Colbert arrived in Maryville at noon today for a week-end visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert.

Parnell Willing Workers

Mrs. Oscar Herndon of Kansas City came Wednesday for a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy.

Among those who attended the Stockers and Feeders Show and Sale in St. Joseph this week were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Powers, Mrs. Mary Giesken, Edward Berg, Clarence Hutcheson, Joe Berg and J. A. Hutcheson.

Fred King went Wednesday to Osage, Minn., for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. King.

Randolph Batt of Parnell and Miss Lois Waits of Ravenwood were married at Maryville Tuesday. They were given an old fashioned charivari Tuesday night by their many young friends.

John Dinsmore, who is employed in St. Joseph came home Wednesday for a visit.

Parnell high school basket ball boys and girls went to Ravenwood Friday evening for a game with that school. The score for the girls was 29 to 1 in favor of Parnell; the boys' score was 18 to 6 in Parnell's favor.

News From Over The County

Elmo Register.

Mrs. Laura Watson seems to improve but little, if any, and had to give up her produce business. It will probably be taken over by J. J. Snodderly and son, Fred, who have been caring for the business since Mrs. Watson became so ill.

Luther Johnston left this week for a trip to Canada. Mr. Johnston has some land up there.

Dick Weddle arrived home Tuesday morning after an absence of several months in western Nebraska and Wyoming. On the night of September 28 he was at work in the snow at the bridge where the train went into the water near Casper, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lamar have gone to Excelsior Springs for the benefit of the waters.

Ereille Kinman's new bungalow home northeast of town is approaching completion.

Word has been received from Robert D. Kinman that he is recovering finely from the surgical operation, and is expecting to arrive home Sunday.

BURLINGTON JUNCTION POST.

Mrs. Ingham S. Emerson and son Sammy of New York City are visiting the former's cousin, Mrs. John Houston this week. Mrs. D. J. Nelson of Parnell is also a guest at the Houston home.

The little son of Bert Penny of southwest of town is suffering from a bad nail wound in one of his feet.

Mrs. Fulton Dixon of Lamar, Colo., is visiting at the homes of her brothers, George and Sam Jones.

Mrs. J. Wesley Jones of Loveland, Colorado is here visiting her sister, Mrs. T. E. Fordyce.

Ralph Wray, who is to manage the new Wray Co.'s filling station here has moved from Maryville to the property he recently bought from Mrs. Burris.

Rev. and Mrs. Rutledge of Nebraska, Mrs. Moore of Moorehead, Iowa and Elmer Moore of Miami, Florida are guests at the home of Mrs. Lucy Vulgamott this week.

Jesse Headrick, who was called here by the serious illness of his father, James Headrick, left Monday for his home at Lansford, S. D.

Clearmont News

Jay Smith and wife went to Kansas City the last of last week to visit their daughter, Mrs. Jennie Stewart, and their son Harry Smith, and may visit Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Garrett, at Eureka Springs, Ark., before returning.

Mrs. O. V. Hurdle left Monday for Springfield, Illinois, where she will receive the degree of Chivalry of the Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. D. S. Clayton, who has been out in California for the past year, arrived here yesterday to visit her daughters, Mrs. M. I. Rose and Mrs. Oscar Bancroft.

Skidmore News

Mrs. W. R. Linville was taken to the hospital at Maryville Thursday afternoon of last week and underwent an operation Friday morning. She is getting along fine and expects to return home in a few days.

A. B. Kingery left Wednesday morning for Omaha, Neb., where he and Mrs. Kingery will make their future home. Mrs. Kingery has been in Omaha for the past three or four weeks.

L. N. Torrey came over from Maryville Tuesday morning and remained until yesterday morning when he left for Kingsley, Iowa, for a few days visit with his sister.

HOPKINS JOURNAL.

A business change that occasioned considerable surprise took place in Hopkins the past week when Oliver Lewis and Floyd Rickard, owners of the Owl Pharmacy, bought the drug store of Herbert & Gray. Mr. Lewis has taken charge of the new store and will be assisted later by his son Raymond, who graduates in a few months as a pharmacist from the state university of Nebraska. Bud Mathers, who was with the old firm, will also remain with the new one. Mr. Rickard will have the active management of the Owl Pharmacy, the two stores being run separately the same as if the ownership was in different hands. Nide Pettyjohn is helping for the present at the Owl. The retiring firm was doing a lucrative business, the only reason for the change being that Mr. Gray, who was not an active member of the firm, wanted out as he is seriously thinking of leaving Hopkins to locate in California and if this move is not made, he wishes to be free to engage in the milling business, being manager of the Hopkins Milling Company.

Shelley, Worley & Company, of Sheridan, the "company" being Mutti & Brown, of Hopkins, are the new owners of the Stephens-Taylor Hardware store in Bedford and will assume charge of same the first of January, having decided to close out the business at Sheridan and enter on a bigger scale at Bedford. Fred Sholey and Charley Worley are both Hopkins men, capable of holding their own with the best of them in the commercial field.

Bud Grimes and family, who have been living near Akron, Colo., have decided to return to Hopkins to live. Bud's asthma being worse there than it was when residing in this city. Miss Lou Grimes arrived last week and the balance of the family will be here this week or next.

Grant Ingram, west of Hopkins, reports a strange animal running at large in his neighborhood, a two-legged rabbit, or as he says, some fellow with plenty of rabbit blood in his make up, running two of the finest trees in his orchard one night last week. Grant used to trap rabbits and may be able to catch this one.

PARNELL REVIEW.

The cornerstone of the new M. E. Church was laid Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted by Dr. W. F. Burris of St. Joseph, assisted by Rev. Wells of Sheridan, Rev. G. E. DeWitt, pastor at Parnell. After the stone was put in place, a Bible donated by J. W. Kennedy, a list of names of the boys of Mrs. Chas. Evans' class who donated the cornerstone, a list of 350 names of those who donated one dollar each to the church, a record of the 1915 memorial conference, containing the pictures of the Rev. Roof, founder of the M. E. Church at Parnell, and Mrs. C. H. John, wife of a former pastor here, latest discipline of the church, and a history of the old M. E. Church were placed in the stone for future history.

Mrs. Freeman Lyle returned Saturday from a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Reece and family of Colome, S. D.

Mrs. Wm. Beckman was taken to St. Francis hospital at Maryville Monday. She was accompanied by Mr. Beckman, Dr. Day, Mrs. James Barber and Mrs. Frawley, who returned the same day.

Harve Miller of Carpenter, Wyo., arrived here Tuesday on 54. His father, James Miller, Sr., is seriously ill.

Ravenwood Gazette

Dale Rhodes left Friday for San Francisco to attend the American Legion meeting. He will visit Los Angeles and other points in California before returning home.

Mrs. Alta Gambill and daughter Ellen of Lodge Grass, Mont., arrived here Thursday for an extended visit with Mrs. Gambill's mother, Mrs. Ellen Spear.

MOUNT TABOR, Dist. No. 11

A number of the men in this community attended the Marion Fine sale east of Bradyville, Tuesday.

Mrs. Vernon Riggie is still quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Livengood announce the birth of a little daughter, whom they have christened, Ida Irene. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bishop were Sunday dinner guests at Granville Clark's.

L. W. James delivered 44 head of steers to Ed Wallace at Clearmont. The consideration was $1500.

Phyllis Livengood of Maryville spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Livengood.

Tom Smith who has been ailing for some time is slightly improved. Harold Johnston and family spent Sunday with Oral Sloan near Blanchard, Ia.

Lon Cramer and wife of Welda, Kansas have been visiting Elmer Livengood's.

Friday was Tom Smith's birthday, his children and grandchildren brought well filled baskets to help him celebrate the occasion.

Neva Belle McIntosh is quite ill with a cold.

Lee McCumber and family, went to the Hopkins picnic last Thursday.

Will Ecker's have moved into their beautiful new home.

Mrs. Helen Pruitt entertained the Ladies Aid of the Elmo M. E. Church, Thursday.

Perkins With Bulletin.

Clyde A. Perkins has been added to the staff of Bulletin employees. He has been called upon to take charge of the news and advertising work of the paper.

It did not take us long to see that Clyde could fill the chair. Whether or not he can handle the work with satisfaction to the boss and the public remains to be seen.—Barnard Bulletin.

Strawberries in October.

We have had of the land of the big red apple and of the wonderful fruits grown in the Ozark country, but when you beat Jefferson township—well, you will have to go some. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stowell enjoyed a fine mess of fresh strawberries last Sunday which were raised by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Label at their home place in the northeast part of town, which they say will be the last of the 1923 crop.—Conception Courier.

Mrs. R. A. Berger and son, Billy, went to St. Joseph yesterday to spend the week end with Mrs. Berger's parents.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads

Next Week At the Movies

ELECTRIC.

"Masters of Men" plays at the Electric on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. This is a vivid drama of the sea, about men whose veins run hot with red fighting blood and will fight in defense of honor. It is the story of a boy who battled to master primordial instincts of the young male to win a man's estate in the most brutal school on earth—a four master sailing the Spanish main. Intermingled with this is a story of youthful love.

"Gold of the Desert" appears on Thursday night. This is a film of the western land, its trials and sorrows. The plot is centered around the struggle over a gold mine. A thrilling fire in the gold mine. The young hero of the story beats the villains to the filling of claims on the mine and also wins a beautiful wife in his fight.

A rare display is featured by Tom Moore in "Harbor Lights," on Friday night. A fierce encounter with a girl's finance, and a man seeking to destroy his good name with a plunge over a cliff with a drop of 125 feet into the sea provides a delightful climax to one of Tom Moore's best productions.

On Saturday night "The Right Way" is shown. One boy was born in the slums. The other amid riches and luxury. Life shuffles the cards so that each draws a royal flush of vice and dissipation. Love plays its hand. The influence of a good woman fails to sidestep the onrush of crime which engulfs the two boys. The law tightens a net. To prison the men are sent. Then they learn of the impending fate of "The Smiler." The man with guilty knowledge is Wu Fang, leader of the Chinese Tong, who is a free man. The boys decide to escape and capture the Oriental. The days and nights bring thrills and excitement.

In realistic scenes one follows the men through a channel of adventure with climax after climax of suspense and interest. Of course the "girl just outside" once more greets her liberated sweetheart.

EMPIRE.

"Mighty Lak'a Rose" plays at the Empire on Monday and Tuesday night. It is a story of a beautiful young girl, and her violin and the magic of that melody wrought in the hearts of a band of thieves who would use her for their crooked schemes. When it comes to a showdown one of the crooks was willing to lay down his life and to sacrifice everything in order that she might know he loved her. The story is one based on human emotions and will linger like an forgotten song.

Betty Compton and Richard Dix are featured in "The Woman With Four Faces." This is a picture depicting life in the underworld of one of our great cities. The district attorney loves a woman who is a crook as the result of environment and training only. The four faces embraced in the title of the picture are displayed by Miss Compton—first, as a masked woman; second, in disguise of an old woman; third, as a waitress, and finally, as herself undisguised. The escape of a convict by means of an airplane from the San Quentin.

"Prodigal Daughters" plays at the Empire on Friday and Saturday nights. This is a picture showing the modern jazz-mad girl at her dizziest pace. Finally she leaves her father's home after a repudiation for a night in the storm with a man. Trying to escape from marrying the man, she starts a waiting locomotive and is determined to wreck it and thus kill herself. Corbino, a former devotee of hers, realizes her danger and rescues her by means of a rope ladder from an airplane. She then returns to her father's home, a married lady.

Fairview Items

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Phelps and family visited with Grandma Icke Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rasco and family spent Sunday evening with Frank Maffitt and family.

Mrs. Chas. Dougan spent Saturday with her son Frank Dougan.

Velma Hilsabeck spent Wednesday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hilsabeck.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Walden and family spent Thursday in Arkoe with W. W. Walden and family.

Mrs. Sam Wohlford and daughter, Ruth spent Sunday at Guilford at the home of Liman Hinkle.

Katherine Campbell visited our school Tuesday evening.

William Maffitt has been absent from school this week on account of sickness.

Harold and Garnett Dougan spent Saturday night and Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Fred Yates.

Floyd Nelson spent Tuesday night with Farrell Dougan.

Eulah Warren was absent from school Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilsabeck and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hilsabeck. Leland Wohlford spent Sunday at the home of Ed Sexons.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wohlford and daughter Lorene spent Sunday with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Chalmers Kling.

Sunday evening visitors at the home of George Wohlford were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goforth, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilsabeck and family, Mrs. Hugh Goforth and children.

J. S. Perkins is building a new hog shed.

Mrs. Caroline Willson and daughter, Mattie, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Willson and children spent Sunday with J. R. Campbell and daughters.

W. W. Furlong was a Maryville visitor, Thursday.

Homer and Harold Phelps spent Thursday night with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hilsabeck.

Floyd Conley and Cecil Wehr shipped a car load of hogs to St. Joseph, Monday.

Miss Wright To Council Bluffs

Miss Lucile Wright went to Council Bluffs, Ia., this morning where she will visit over the week end with Miss Lucile Beason, who is teaching in the public schools. Miss Beason's home is in Grant City.

John N. Edwards of Ravenwood was a Maryville business visitor yesterday.

EMPIRE THEATRE

LAST TIME TONIGHT—

"The Heart Raiders"

With AGNES AYRES and All-Star Cast.

Monday and Tuesday—

A First National Picture.

Rich Man, Poor Man, Beggar Man, Thief—and a girl and her violin!

What would be the bond between them? Driven like ships bound for the Port of Prince and Pauper. Was it just the magic of her melody that came like a shaft of light to these people in the shadows?—or was it something else?

Music? Magic? Love?—perhaps a power greater still! Whatever it is, it echoes through this picture, a song of the soul that will linger in your memory for days to come.

The Right Way!

There's no better method of reaching the people than thru the Want Ads. Everybody reads them, for they are news to those who seek something and likewise news to those having something to sell.

Use the Want Ads more—for any purpose—and we are satisfied that you will be gratified by the results.

The Democrat-Forum

The BROWN MOUSE

by Herbert Quick

CHAPTER VIII.—Jim has Christmas dinner at Colonel Woodruff's, and listening to him, Jim begins to do some thinking concerning his ability and his prospects.

CHAPTER IX.—In the evening, Jim, as well as he knows how, starts Jennie, without, however, making much progress, though she is quickly losing her poor opinion of him.

CHAPTER X.—Jennie, elected county superintendent of schools, receives so many complaints from people of the district concerning Jim's methods of teaching that she finds herself compelled formally to ask for his resignation. After she has left, Jim is visited by Colonel Woodruff, who strongly urges him to refuse to resign, and offers to back him. Jim agrees to stick, for a while at least.

CHAPTER XI.—A meeting of the school board, which had been gathered to "get" Jim, is confronted by Jennie, who upholds him. He conducts an examination of his pupils at the meeting, to prove that he is not neglecting their "book learning" by the introduction of other subjects which he considers of importance. The splendid showing made by the children converts many, who had doubted, to his views.

CHAPTER XII.—The novel ideas which Jim has introduced have been talked about outside the county, and he is visited by Professor Withers, extension lecturer at the state university, who invites him to deliver an address at the next annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute.

CHAPTER XIII.—Professor Withers is impressed by many of the innovations made by Jim, and so informs Colonel Woodruff and Jennie, somewhat to the astonishment of both. The colonel suggests to Jim that he (the colonel) seek election to the school board, replacing Cornelius Bonner, implacable enemy of Jim Irwin.

CHAPTER XIV

A Minor Casts Half a Vote.

March came in like neither a lion nor a lamb, but was scarcely a week old before the wild ducks had begun to score the sky above Bronson's slew looking for open water and badly harvested cornfields. Wild geese, too, honked from on high as if in wonder that these great prairies on which their forefathers had been wont fearlessly to alight had been changed into a disgusting expanse of farms. Colonel Woodruff's hired man, Pete, stopped Newton Bronson and Raymond Simms as they tramped across the colonel's pasture, gun in hand, trying to make themselves believe that the shooting was good.

"This ain't no country to hunt in," said he. "Did either of you fellows ever have any real duck-shooting?"

"The mountings," said Raymond, "air poor places for ducks."

"Not big enough water," suggested Pete. "Some wood-ducks, I suppose?"

"Along the creeks and rivers, yes, seh," said Raymond, "but nothing to depend on."

"I've never been nowhere," said Newton, "except once to Minnesota—and—and that wasn't in the shooting season."

A year ago Newton would have boasted of having "bummed" his way to Earlbaul. His hesitant speech was a proof of the embarrassment his new respectability sometimes inflicted upon him.

"I used to shoot ducks for the market at Spirit Lake," said Pete. "I know Fred Gilbert just as well as I know you. But that's all over, now. You've got to go so far now to get decent shooting where the farmers won't drive you off, that it costs nine dollars to send a postcard home."

"I think we'll have fine shooting on the slew in a few days," said Newton.

"Humph!" scoffed Pete. "I give you my word, if I hadn't promised the colonel I'd stay with him another year, I'd take a side-door Pullman for the Sand Hills of Nebraska or the Devil's lake country tomorrow—if I had a gun."

"If it wasn't for a parcel of things that keep me lych," said Raymond, "I'd like to go, too."

"The colonel," said Pete, "needs me. He needs me in the election tomorrow. What's the matter of your of man, Newt? What for does he vote for that Bonner, and throw down an old neighbor?"

"I can't do anything with him!" exclaimed Newton irritably. "He's all tangled up with Peterson and Bonner."

"Well," said Pete, "if he'd just stay at home it would help some. If he votes for Bonner, it'll be just about a stand-off."

"He never misses a vote!" said Newton despairingly.

"Can't you cripple him some way?" asked Pete jealously. "Darned funny when a boy of your age can't control his father's vote! So long!"

"I wish I could vote!" grumbled Newton. "I wish I could! We know a lot more about the school, and Jim Irwin 'vein' a good teacher than dad does—and we can't vote. Why can't folks vote when they are interested in an election, and know about the issues. It's tyranny that you and I can't vote."

"I reckon," said Raymond, the conservative, "that the old-time people that axed it thataway knowed best."

"Rats!" sneered Newton, the iconoclast. "Why, Callista knows more about the election of school director than dad knows."

rather slowly to the kitchen door, and casually remarked that Newton was dying on the sofa in the sitting-room.

"You little grand!" said her father. "Why, Fanny!" said her mother—and ran into the sitting-room—where in a moment, with a cry that was almost a scream, she summoned her husband, who responded at the top of his speed.

Newton was groaning and in convulsions. Horrible grimaces contorted his face, his jaws were set, his arms and legs drawn up, and his muscles tense.

"What's the matter?" His father's voice was stern as well as full of anxiety. "What's the matter, boy?"

"Oh!" cried Newton. "Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"Newtie, Newtie!" cried his mother. "where are you in pain? Tell mother, Newtie!"

"Oh," groaned Newtie, relaxing, "I feel awful!"

"What you been eating?" interrogated his father.

"Nothing," replied Newton. "I saw you eatin' dinner," said his father.

Again Newton was convulsed by strong spasms, and again his groans filled the hearts of his parents with terror.

"That's all I've eaten," said he when his spasms had passed, "except a few raisins. I was putting strychnine in 'em—"

"Oh, heavens!" cried his mother.

"Sometimes I think the more people read the less sense they've got," said Newton. "I wish I could get the dad up! I wish I could get snakebit, and make him go for the doctor!"

The boys crossed the ridge to the wooded valley in which nestled the Simms cabin. They found Mrs. Simms greatly exercised in her mind because young McGeehee had been found playing with some blue vitriol used by Raymond in his school work on the treatment of seed potatoes for scab.

"His hands was all blue with it," said she. "Do you reckon, Mr. Newton, that it'll pizen him?"

"Did he swallow any of it?" asked Newton.

"Nah!" said McGeehee scornfully. Newton reassured Mrs. Simms, and went away pensive. Jim Irwin's methods had already accomplished much in preparing Newton and Raymond for citizenship. He had shown them the fact that voting really has some relation to life. At present, however, the new wine in the old bottles was causing Newton to forget his filial duty, and his respect for his father.

He wished he could lock him up in the barn so he couldn't go to the school election. He wished he could become ill—or poisoned with blue vitriol or something—so his father would be obliged to go for a doctor.

He wished—well, why couldn't he get sick? Newton mended his pace, and looked happier.

"I'll fix him!" said he to himself. "What time's the election, Ez?" asked Mrs. Bronson at breakfast.

"I'm goin' at four o'clock," said Ezra. "And I don't want to hear any more from any one"—looking at Newton—"about the election. It's none of the business of the women an' boys."

Newton took this reproach in an unexpectedly submissive spirit. In fact, he exhibited his very best side to the family that morning, like one going on a long journey, or about to be married off, or engaged in some deep dark plot.

"I s'pose you're off trampin' the slews at the sight of a flock of ducks four miles off as usual?" stated Mr. Bronson challengingly.

"I thought," said Newton, "that I'd get a lot of raisin bait ready for the pocket-gophers in the lower meadow. They'll be throwing up their mounds by the first of April."

"Not them," said Mr. Bronson, somewhat mollified, "not before May. Where'd you get the raisin idee?"

"We learned it in school," answered Newton. "Jim had me study a bulletin on the control and eradication of pocket-gophers. You use raisins with strychnine in 'em—and it tells 'how.'"

"Some fool notion, I s'pose," said Mr. Bronson, rising. "But go ahead if you're careful about handlin' the strychnine!"

Newton spent the time from twelve-thirty to half after two in watching the clock; and twenty minutes to three found him in the woodshed, pen-knife in hand, a small vial of strychnine crystal before him, a saucer of raisins at his right hand, and another exactly like it, partially filled with gopher bait—raisins into which a minute crystal of strychnine had been inserted on the point of the knife.

At three-thirty Newton went into the house and lay down on the horsehair sofa, saying to his mother that he felt kind of funny and thought he'd lie down a while. At three-forty he heard his father's voice in the kitchen and knew that his sire was preparing to start for the scene of battle.

A groan issued from Newton's lips—a gruesome groan. But his father's voice from the kitchen door betrayed no agitation. He was scolding the horses as they stood tied to the hitching-post, in tones that showed no knowledge of his son's distressed moods.

"What's the matter?" It was Newton's little sister who asked the question. Even though regarded as a pure matter of make-believe, such sounds were terrible.

"Oh, sister, sister!" howled Newton, "run and tell 'em that brother's dyin'!"

Fanny disappeared in a manner which expressed her balanced feelings—she felt that her brother was making believe, but for all that, something awful was the matter. So she went rather slowly to the kitchen door, and casually remarked that Newton was dying on the sofa in the sitting-room.

"You little grand!" said her father. "Why, Fanny!" said her mother—and ran into the sitting-room—where in a moment, with a cry that was almost a scream, she summoned her husband, who responded at the top of his speed.

Newton was groaning and in convulsions. Horrible grimaces contorted his face, his jaws were set, his arms and legs drawn up, and his muscles tense.

"What's the matter?" His father's voice was stern as well as full of anxiety. "What's the matter, boy?"

"Oh!" cried Newton. "Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"Newtie, Newtie!" cried his mother. "where are you in pain? Tell mother, Newtie!"

"Oh," groaned Newtie, relaxing, "I feel awful!"

"What you been eating?" interrogated his father.

"Nothing," replied Newton. "I saw you eatin' dinner," said his father.

Again Newton was convulsed by strong spasms, and again his groans filled the hearts of his parents with terror.

"That's all I've eaten," said he when his spasms had passed, "except a few raisins. I was putting strychnine in 'em—"

"Oh, heavens!" cried his mother.

"Sometimes I think the more people read the less sense they've got," said Newton. "I wish I could get the dad up! I wish I could get snakebit, and make him go for the doctor!"

The boys crossed the ridge to the wooded valley in which nestled the Simms cabin. They found Mrs. Simms greatly exercised in her mind because young McGeehee had been found playing with some blue vitriol used by Raymond in his school work on the treatment of seed potatoes for scab.

"His hands was all blue with it," said she. "Do you reckon, Mr. Newton, that it'll pizen him?"

"Did he swallow any of it?" asked Newton.

"Nah!" said McGeehee scornfully. Newton reassured Mrs. Simms, and went away pensive. Jim Irwin's methods had already accomplished much in preparing Newton and Raymond for citizenship. He had shown them the fact that voting really has some relation to life. At present, however, the new wine in the old bottles was causing Newton to forget his filial duty, and his respect for his father.

He wished he could lock him up in the barn so he couldn't go to the school election. He wished he could become ill—or poisoned with blue vitriol or something—so his father would be obliged to go for a doctor.

He wished—well, why couldn't he get sick? Newton mended his pace, and looked happier.

"I'll fix him!" said he to himself. "What time's the election, Ez?" asked Mrs. Bronson at breakfast.

"I'm goin' at four o'clock," said Ezra. "And I don't want to hear any more from any one"—looking at Newton—"about the election. It's none of the business of the women an' boys."

Newton took this reproach in an unexpectedly submissive spirit. In fact, he exhibited his very best side to the family that morning, like one going on a long journey, or about to be married off, or engaged in some deep dark plot.

"I s'pose you're off trampin' the slews at the sight of a flock of ducks four miles off as usual?" stated Mr. Bronson challengingly.

"I thought," said Newton, "that I'd get a lot of raisin bait ready for the pocket-gophers in the lower meadow. They'll be throwing up their mounds by the first of April."

"Not them," said Mr. Bronson, somewhat mollified, "not before May. Where'd you get the raisin idee?"

"We learned it in school," answered Newton. "Jim had me study a bulletin on the control and eradication of pocket-gophers. You use raisins with strychnine in 'em—and it tells 'how.'"

"Some fool notion, I s'pose," said Mr. Bronson, rising. "But go ahead if you're careful about handlin' the strychnine!"

Newton spent the time from twelve-thirty to half after two in watching the clock; and twenty minutes to three found him in the woodshed, pen-knife in hand, a small vial of strychnine crystal before him, a saucer of raisins at his right hand, and another exactly like it, partially filled with gopher bait—raisins into which a minute crystal of strychnine had been inserted on the point of the knife.

At three-thirty Newton went into the house and lay down on the horsehair sofa, saying to his mother that he felt kind of funny and thought he'd lie down a while. At three-forty he heard his father's voice in the kitchen and knew that his sire was preparing to start for the scene of battle.

A groan issued from Newton's lips—a gruesome groan. But his father's voice from the kitchen door betrayed no agitation. He was scolding the horses as they stood tied to the hitching-post, in tones that showed no knowledge of his son's distressed moods.

"What's the matter?" It was Newton's little sister who asked the question. Even though regarded as a pure matter of make-believe, such sounds were terrible.

"Oh, sister, sister!" howled Newton, "run and tell 'em that brother's dyin'!"

Fanny disappeared in a manner which expressed her balanced feelings—she felt that her brother was making believe, but for all that, something awful was the matter. So she went rather slowly to the kitchen door, and casually remarked that Newton was dying on the sofa in the sitting-room.

"You little grand!" said her father. "Why, Fanny!" said her mother—and ran into the sitting-room—where in a moment, with a cry that was almost a scream, she summoned her husband, who responded at the top of his speed.

Newton was groaning and in convulsions. Horrible grimaces contorted his face, his jaws were set, his arms and legs drawn up, and his muscles tense.

"What's the matter?" His father's voice was stern as well as full of anxiety. "What's the matter, boy?"

"Oh!" cried Newton. "Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"Newtie, Newtie!" cried his mother. "where are you in pain? Tell mother, Newtie!"

"Oh," groaned Newtie, relaxing, "I feel awful!"

"What you been eating?" interrogated his father.

"Nothing," replied Newton. "I saw you eatin' dinner," said his father.

Again Newton was convulsed by strong spasms, and again his groans filled the hearts of his parents with terror.

"That's all I've eaten," said he when his spasms had passed, "except a few raisins. I was putting strychnine in 'em—"

"Oh, heavens!" cried his mother.

"Sometimes I think the more people read the less sense they've got," said Newton. "I wish I could get the dad up! I wish I could get snakebit, and make him go for the doctor!"

The boys crossed the ridge to the wooded valley in which nestled the Simms cabin. They found Mrs. Simms greatly exercised in her mind because young McGeehee had been found playing with some blue vitriol used by Raymond in his school work on the treatment of seed potatoes for scab.

"His hands was all blue with it," said she. "Do you reckon, Mr. Newton, that it'll pizen him?"

"Did he swallow any of it?" asked Newton.

"Nah!" said McGeehee scornfully. Newton reassured Mrs. Simms, and went away pensive. Jim Irwin's methods had already accomplished much in preparing Newton and Raymond for citizenship. He had shown them the fact that voting really has some relation to life. At present, however, the new wine in the old bottles was causing Newton to forget his filial duty, and his respect for his father.

He wished he could lock him up in the barn so he couldn't go to the school election. He wished he could become ill—or poisoned with blue vitriol or something—so his father would be obliged to go for a doctor.

He wished—well, why couldn't he get sick? Newton mended his pace, and looked happier.

"I'll fix him!" said he to himself. "What time's the election, Ez?" asked Mrs. Bronson at breakfast.

"I'm goin' at four o'clock," said Ezra. "And I don't want to hear any more from any one"—looking at Newton—"about the election. It's none of the business of the women an' boys."

Newton took this reproach in an unexpectedly submissive spirit. In fact, he exhibited his very best side to the family that morning, like one going on a long journey, or about to be married off, or engaged in some deep dark plot.

"I s'pose you're off trampin' the slews at the sight of a flock of ducks four miles off as usual?" stated Mr. Bronson challengingly.

"I thought," said Newton, "that I'd get a lot of raisin bait ready for the pocket-gophers in the lower meadow. They'll be throwing up their mounds by the first of April."

"Not them," said Mr. Bronson, somewhat mollified, "not before May. Where'd you get the raisin idee?"

"We learned it in school," answered Newton. "Jim had me study a bulletin on the control and eradication of pocket-gophers. You use raisins with strychnine in 'em—and it tells 'how.'"

"Some fool notion, I s'pose," said Mr. Bronson, rising. "But go ahead if you're careful about handlin' the strychnine!"

Newton spent the time from twelve-thirty to half after two in watching the clock; and twenty minutes to three found him in the woodshed, pen-knife in hand, a small vial of strychnine crystal before him, a saucer of raisins at his right hand, and another exactly like it, partially filled with gopher bait—raisins into which a minute crystal of strychnine had been inserted on the point of the knife.

At three-thirty Newton went into the house and lay down on the horsehair sofa, saying to his mother that he felt kind of funny and thought he'd lie down a while. At three-forty he heard his father's voice in the kitchen and knew that his sire was preparing to start for the scene of battle.

A groan issued from Newton's lips—a gruesome groan. But his father's voice from the kitchen door betrayed no agitation. He was scolding the horses as they stood tied to the hitching-post, in tones that showed no knowledge of his son's distressed moods.

"What's the matter?" It was Newton's little sister who asked the question. Even though regarded as a pure matter of make-believe, such sounds were terrible.

"Oh, sister, sister!" howled Newton, "run and tell 'em that brother's dyin'!"

Fanny disappeared in a manner which expressed her balanced feelings—she felt that her brother was making believe, but for all that, something awful was the matter. So she went rather slowly to the kitchen door, and casually remarked that Newton was dying on the sofa in the sitting-room.

"You little grand!" said her father. "Why, Fanny!" said her mother—and ran into the sitting-room—where in a moment, with a cry that was almost a scream, she summoned her husband, who responded at the top of his speed.

Newton was groaning and in convulsions. Horrible grimaces contorted his face, his jaws were set, his arms and legs drawn up, and his muscles tense.

"What's the matter?" His father's voice was stern as well as full of anxiety. "What's the matter, boy?"

"Oh!" cried Newton. "Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"Newtie, Newtie!" cried his mother. "where are you in pain? Tell mother, Newtie!"

"Oh," groaned Newtie, relaxing, "I feel awful!"

"What you been eating?" interrogated his father.

"Nothing," replied Newton. "I saw you eatin' dinner," said his father.

Again Newton was convulsed by strong spasms, and again his groans filled the hearts of his parents with terror.

"That's all I've eaten," said he when his spasms had passed, "except a few raisins. I was putting strychnine in 'em—"

"Oh, heavens!" cried his mother.

"Sometimes I think the more people read the less sense they've got," said Newton. "I wish I could get the dad up! I wish I could get snakebit, and make him go for the doctor!"

The boys crossed the ridge to the wooded valley in which nestled the Simms cabin. They found Mrs. Simms greatly exercised in her mind because young McGeehee had been found playing with some blue vitriol used by Raymond in his school work on the treatment of seed potatoes for scab.

"His hands was all blue with it," said she. "Do you reckon, Mr. Newton, that it'll pizen him?"

"Did he swallow any of it?" asked Newton.

"Nah!" said McGeehee scornfully. Newton reassured Mrs. Simms, and went away pensive. Jim Irwin's methods had already accomplished much in preparing Newton and Raymond for citizenship. He had shown them the fact that voting really has some relation to life. At present, however, the new wine in the old bottles was causing Newton to forget his filial duty, and his respect for his father.

He wished he could lock him up in the barn so he couldn't go to the school election. He wished he could become ill—or poisoned with blue vitriol or something—so his father would be obliged to go for a doctor.

He wished—well, why couldn't he get sick? Newton mended his pace, and looked happier.

"I'll fix him!" said he to himself. "What time's the election, Ez?" asked Mrs. Bronson at breakfast.

"I'm goin' at four o'clock," said Ezra. "And I don't want to hear any more from any one"—looking at Newton—"about the election. It's none of the business of the women an' boys."

Newton took this reproach in an unexpectedly submissive spirit. In fact, he exhibited his very best side to the family that morning, like one going on a long journey, or about to be married off, or engaged in some deep dark plot.

"I s'pose you're off trampin' the slews at the sight of a flock of ducks four miles off as usual?" stated Mr. Bronson challengingly.

"I thought," said Newton, "that I'd get a lot of raisin bait ready for the pocket-gophers in the lower meadow. They'll be throwing up their mounds by the first of April."

"Not them," said Mr. Bronson, somewhat mollified, "not before May. Where'd you get the raisin idee?"

"We learned it in school," answered Newton. "Jim had me study a bulletin on the control and eradication of pocket-gophers. You use raisins with strychnine in 'em—and it tells 'how.'"

"Some fool notion, I s'pose," said Mr. Bronson, rising. "But go ahead if you're careful about handlin' the strychnine!"

Newton spent the time from twelve-thirty to half after two in watching the clock; and twenty minutes to three found him in the woodshed, pen-knife in hand, a small vial of strychnine crystal before him, a saucer of raisins at his right hand, and another exactly like it, partially filled with gopher bait—raisins into which a minute crystal of strychnine had been inserted on the point of the knife.

At three-thirty Newton went into the house and lay down on the horsehair sofa, saying to his mother that he felt kind of funny and thought he'd lie down a while. At three-forty he heard his father's voice in the kitchen and knew that his sire was preparing to start for the scene of battle.

A groan issued from Newton's lips—a gruesome groan. But his father's voice from the kitchen door betrayed no agitation. He was scolding the horses as they stood tied to the hitching-post, in tones that showed no knowledge of his son's distressed moods.

"What's the matter?" It was Newton's little sister who asked the question. Even though regarded as a pure matter of make-believe, such sounds were terrible.

"Oh, sister, sister!" howled Newton, "run and tell 'em that brother's dyin'!"

Fanny disappeared in a manner which expressed her balanced feelings—she felt that her brother was making believe, but for all that, something awful was the matter. So she went rather slowly to the kitchen door, and casually remarked that Newton was dying on the sofa in the sitting-room.

"You little grand!" said her father. "Why, Fanny!" said her mother—and ran into the sitting-room—where in a moment, with a cry that was almost a scream, she summoned her husband, who responded at the top of his speed.

Newton was groaning and in convulsions. Horrible grimaces contorted his face, his jaws were set, his arms and legs drawn up, and his muscles tense.

"What's the matter?" His father's voice was stern as well as full of anxiety. "What's the matter, boy?"

"Oh!" cried Newton. "Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"Newtie, Newtie!" cried his mother. "where are you in pain? Tell mother, Newtie!"

"Oh," groaned Newtie, relaxing, "I feel awful!"

"What you been eating?" interrogated his father.

"Nothing," replied Newton. "I saw you eatin' dinner," said his father.

Again Newton was convulsed by strong spasms, and again his groans filled the hearts of his parents with terror.

"That's all I've eaten," said he when his spasms had passed, "except a few raisins. I was putting strychnine in 'em—"

"Oh, heavens!" cried his mother.

"Sometimes I think the more people read the less sense they've got," said Newton. "I wish I could get the dad up! I wish I could get snakebit, and make him go for the doctor!"

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Wants

THAT BRING RESULTS

Rates—1c per word each insertion with minimum charge 25c for first insertion, minimum 12 words; six consecutive insertions, 5c per word, minimum 17 words; one month, 15c per word, minimum 17 words.

Count the words; send money with the order.

These prices are for CASH with order. An extra charge of five cents will be made on all Want Ads when cash does not accompany the order.

FOR SALE

LEGAL FORMS FOR SALE—The following legal forms may be had at The Democrat-Forum office: Quit Claim Deed, House Leases, Deed of Trust, Chattel Mortgage with power of Sale, and General Warranty Deed.

FOR SALE—U. S. Tires and tubes, at Malam's Garage, 207 North Market. 11f

FOR SALE—100 head Duroc hogs and gilts at auction Oct. 24. King & Son, Hopkins, Mo. 16-22*

FOR SALE—Four 34x1 tires and tubes at Malam's Garage. 18-20*

FOR SALE—Used parts for 37 Buick—Malam's Garage. 18-20*

FOR SALE—Folding bed, 710 N. Walnut. Farmers 293-12. 19-22*

FOR SALE—Potatoes and turnips. Mrs. Mattie Morton, Farmers 14-11. 18-20*

FOR SALE—Gold fish, fish bowls and fish food; flower pots; some plants at bargain prices. Strader & Clapper, Sewing Machine Exchange. 19-22

FOR SALE—$18.50 Peerless Honeycomb radiators for Fords, $15.50. Farmers Auto Supply Co. 18-24

FOR SALE—Jersey cow, can be seen at 324 East Lawn avenue in afternoon, or call Hanamo 6514. 20-23*

FOR SALE—2 heating stoves. Inquire at 504 North Buchanan St. 18-20*

COCKERELS, PURE BRED S. C. REDS, good ones. Your choice $1.50 each. A few nice yearling hens. Mrs. Ed Shreve, Pickering. 22-27*

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred yearling Hampshire boar. Geo. Barmann, Arkoe. 20-23*

MISCELLANEOUS

FOR RENT—garage. Inquire at 810 East Third. 18-20*

FOR RENT—4 room house, furnished or unfurnished. Inquire Democrat-Forum. 18-20

WANTED—Help at New York Candy Kitchen. 18-1f

Tops, upholstering, side curtains, door opening curtains, for all cars, satisfaction guaranteed. Farmers Auto Supply Co. 018-N17

For cleaning furnaces and flues, or waxing floors, call Hanamo 455—Lee Hicks. 18-20*

WANTED—Married man wants place to work on farm. Inquire at this office. 18-20*

WANTED—Parties to make kraut on shares; cabbage delivered in town. Farmers 76-12. John Graves. 19-22

Agents sell guaranteed hosiery, direct from mill to wearer, salary paid for full time or spare hours. All styles in cotton, heather and silks. International Hosiery Mills, Norris town, Pa. 24*

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms in modern home. Women preferred. 502 East Seventh. 19-22

SALESMAN WANTED—Two men possessing genuine sales ability to sell Bank Supplies, Advertising Novelties and Calendars. One hundred fifty Specialties, two hundred exclusive Calendars. Liberal commissions paid on approval of orders. Attractive Bonus. Sales Manager, Economy Advertising Co., Iowa City, Ia. 20*

Judge I. K. Alderman wishes to announce that his office has not been closed and is always open and that there is a responsible party there to answer calls.—Adv. 20*

Marriage Licenses.

Chas. B. Harden of Mt. Ayes, Ia., and Elva M. Hostetter of Wilcox, age 18. The bride was accompanied here by her father, R. M. Hostetter. The marriage ceremony was performed by Judge Jesse F. Robertson.

W. M. Treece and Gladys Alloway, both of Maryville.

These licenses were issued this afternoon.

MARKET REPORTS

Chicago, Oct. 20—CATTLE—Receipts, 1,200.
HOGS—Receipts, 8,000.
SHEEP—Receipts, 2,000.

St. Louis, Oct. 20—CATTLE—Receipts, 1,000.
HOGS—Receipts, 3,000.
SHEEP—Receipts, 150.

Kansas City, Oct. 20—CATTLE—Receipts, 2,000.
HOGS—Receipts, 2,500.
SHEEP—Receipts, 500.

St. Joseph, Oct. 20—CATTLE—Receipts, 225; top, 9.40.
HOGS—Receipts, 4,000; top, $7.00.
SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000; top $12.35 All steady.

Today's Market

Cream, per lb. 39c
Eggs, per dozen 28c
Hens per lb. 13 to 16c
Springs, per lb. 10 to 13c
Cox per lb. 6c
Ducks per lb. 11c
Geese per lb. 8c
Hides per lb. 4c

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL NOTES

The following named were admitted during the last week: Miss Blanche Dow, Maryville; Mrs. Dick Address, Maryville; Mrs. W. Craig, Ravenwood; Mrs. Wm. Beekman, Parnell; Dr. L. E. Dean, Maryville; Dr. E. L. Crowson, Pickering; Mrs. T. M. Smalley, Bedford, Ia.; Master Carl Gold, Conway, Ia.; G. W. Neeley, Bolckow; Mrs. Leo King, Conception; Mrs. R. V. Pierpoint, Parnell; Mrs. W. W. Chandler, Gravity, Ia.; Mrs. T. L. Wadley, Maryville; Miss Bernice Cast, Maryville; Geneva Daugherty, Elmo; Mrs. Joe Genneke, Clyde; R. B. Foster, Skidmore.

A daughter was born Friday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gillam of Maryville.

The following patients have been dismissed: Mrs. Frank Miller, Wilcox; Clarence Hugh, Maryville; O. Hamerskey, Maryville; Nettie Hudelson, Maryville; Mrs. W. R. Williams, Maryville; Mrs. J. Mayhugh, Forest City; J. Wiley, Pickering; Master Lawrence Zimmerman, Maryville; Miss Hilja Caywood, Maryville; Mrs. J. C. Henggeier, Conception; Miss Blanche Dow, Maryville; and Miss Ada Albert, Maryville.

MT. VERNON HEADLIGHTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Mitchell and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mitchell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Combs were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hefflin and family. Afternoon callers Mr. and Mrs. Milo Ashford and daughters, Leona and Mary Gertrude.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hagwood and family spent Saturday evening and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Thornhill and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huff and daughter spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Huff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Huff of Wilcox.

Alice Elizabeth Thornhill spent Sunday afternoon with Jessie Griffey.

Bessie Damgar spent Thursday afternoon with Lela Evelyn Mitchell.

Earl Damgar and Eldon Griffey spent Thursday afternoon with Leland Curtis and John Merrill Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Montione spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pecos Griffey and grand-daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Damgar and family were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnholt Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Riley spent Saturday evening and Sunday at the home of Mrs. O'Riley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McMahan, Sr.

Miss Thelma Mann of Pickering is spending a few days with her cousin, Miss Pearl Damgar.

Jessie Griffey returned to school Monday after a two week's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tanner spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Meeks and family.

Mrs. Ray Hefflin and family and Miss Elva Hostetter spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Pete Damgar and family.

Mrs. Joe Massing of St. Joseph and Mrs. Sam Mattson of Clyde are guests at the home of Mrs. Massing's mother, Mrs. Hans Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidder Hagey and son, Albert, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffey and family spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones and family.

Mrs. James Conklin, Sr., will go to St. Joseph this afternoon to visit her daughter, Mrs. Isadore Martin, for several days. She will also spend a few days with her son, Thomas Conklin, and family, in Savannah before returning home.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

The Heating Problem

Gaynor Courier

The children have been collecting worms and caterpillars and have placed them in an insect box. All of them have made cocoons. Today the children had a very interesting time watching a beautiful butterfly hatch from one of the cocoons.

Art Randle purchased twenty-five bushels of wheat from Bert Cooper. Mr. Randle is intending to sow about eighteen acres of wheat.

Mrs. Wallace Kennedy and Mrs. Charles Myers of Parnell were in this vicinity Thursday securing subscriptions for the corner stone of the M. E. church at Parnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Curry did some trading at Gaynor last week and also called upon their old friends, Hugh Young and family.

Miss Bertha Riley is helping Mrs. Ed Husbands thru a siege of housecleaning.

Gretchen Nigh and Vera Munn spent Saturday afternoon with Caroline Edwards.

Lucile Stickle spent Saturday afternoon with Sophia Edwards.

Drs. Nigh and Nesbit were called to the home of Frank Barton Sunday because of the serious illness of Mr. Barton. The last report was that he was resting easy.

Several of this vicinity attended the Hopkins picnic Thursday. All reported a good time.

Willis Davidson has resigned his work with the Reith Bridge men. Chester Hobson has taken his place.

Clara Behm of Hopkins spent Thursday with Gretchen Nigh.

It seems to be getting the time of year for the boys around here to go duck hunting. Some are fortunate enough to capture some ducks with out wings.

Sunday visitors at Claude Thomas were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Thomas and Mrs. Ed Husbands.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sharr spent Sunday evening at Henry Smiths.

Hubert and Drexel Koger spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sparks.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith spent Sunday at Henry Smiths.

Esther Smith was absent from high school Monday.

Austin Sharr and family spent Sunday at Wm. Sharr's.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Ratliff spent Sunday at Ira Thompsons.

Malcolm and Dorothy Hepburn spent Sunday evening at Paul Smiths.

The Gaynor M. E. Church is planning a program for next Sunday, this being children's week.

Chas. Toops and family were visiting at the Wm. Toops home Sunday. Mr. Toops uncle from Indianola, Iowa is visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Killion and daughter, Helen were Sunday visitors at the C. P. Dowis home.

Several of this neighborhood have been attending the revival at the Brethren Church. Baptizing was held there Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Toops and daughters Marceline and Maxine were shopping in Sheridan Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Prather and family spent Sunday at Henry Lincoln's.

The first four grades are making some "Little Citizens" booklets.

The eighth grade girls have formed an orbit club.

Lucille Stickle was absent Monday and Tuesday because of sickness.

Donald Hepburn was absent Wednesday.

Chester Hobson and Willis Dawson visited in Hopkins Sunday evening.

The ladies of this vicinity gaze admiringly after Lewis Sparks driving his Fordson Tractor along the highway.

The vitalized agriculture class are very interested in the making of their insect mounting boxes.

The next community meeting of Gaynor district will be a showing of the school film by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. This picture was made last year.

The first four grades are having a contest to see who can get the most stars each month. (A star represents a perfect lesson.) Laveta Archer won last month by being just one star ahead. Lorine Otto and Angeline New are ahead this month.

Sophia Edwards handed in the best collection of news this week.

Hand your news to some of our "reporters" or tell the Gaynor Central.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

Singrey, District No. 179

We were greatly shocked Monday evening when we dismissed our school to learn that Ed Crain had died only a few minutes before. His death was not expected at all. He helped on the excavation of the Bethany church basement last Saturday. He complained to the men there of a pain between his shoulders. His son, Dick, had been to his home Monday and was going home after some medicine. He died while Dick was on his way home. His son, Garland and his wife, were alone. Charley McGrew went as soon as he received the word. None of the neighbors knew anything of his danger nor did even his own family. In Ed Crain the community loses a very good citizen. In going home Monday evening everyone said, "there was a good man." Mr. Crain has an interest in the Farmers Exchange at Barnard and also in the Farmers Lumber Company. He was a prominent member of each. He was a good, conservative business man, a kind father and husband and a good neighbor. His friends are legion in this community. He will be greatly missed.

All the teachers in this community attended the teachers' meetings at Maryville last week. All are a unit in pronouncing it the best ever held in Northwest Missouri. Several speakers of renown were on the program and made excellent addresses. Teachers can not help taking with them many good thoughts that will be expressed in their work in various districts, thus the intellectual capacity of all will be strengthened. Education is beginning to receive the right kind of attention. Yet we find some teachers who will not attend these meetings and those who do not attend, attend the fewest possible number of sessions to get by. We think a teacher owes it to his profession to attend all the meetings. He or she possibly can assist in every way for the education, all improving of our great state.

Quite a number of our people have been painting their houses the past summer and early autumn. Among these are Nicholas Helzar, Roy and Frank McNeal, Monte Troth, Leslie Davis, Evert Davis, Fred Goff, Edgar Elliott, J. D. Elliott and S. B. Christian. This improves the appearance of the buildings greatly.

The people of the Bethany community have been digging the basement under the church. The work is progressing rapidly. As soon as wather conditions will permit the floor of the basement will be laid; it will be concrete. Other improvements will be made also. The extent of improvements has not been determined at present. The church will be in much better condition when they get it finished. The ladies of the church are planning a bazaar for the near future. They are an industrious and energetic body and will no doubt make it a success. Friday evening is Bethany night at the great revival meeting at Maryville.

Miss Evelyn Richey has gone with her father to their home in the Central school district. We hate to lose Evelyn as she is a good student. But our loss is Central's gain.

Edgar Elliott and family visited with Lawrence Hill and family last Sunday.

Lewis William and Floyd Rowlett visited with Willie Hill last Sunday.

Elva Solomon and Mary Christian visited at Charley Hicks' home last Sunday evening.

There was a small crowd than usual at Sabbath school last Sunday on account of the rainy weather and the bad condition of the roads.

We hope the weather will improve and the condition of the roads get better for next Sunday.

PEACE AND HARMONY.

(By Eighth Grade).

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Logan spent Thursday in St. Joseph on business.

Several from this neighborhood went to Skidmore Wednesday evening to see Jackie Coogan featured in "Peck's Bad Boy."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gwinn and son, Matt Clay, visited at the home of Mr. Gwinn's mother, Mrs. Matt Gwinn, near Bedson Sunday.

We surely appreciate the coal which was hauled last Saturday.

Delbert and Woodrow Stephens are still absent from school. Everyone is wondering how they will be able to write on the quarterly examinations next week after so long absence.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Reaksecker and

"COLD IN THE HEAD"

A cold attack of Nasal Catarrh. These subject to frequent "colds" are generally in a "run down" condition.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Treatment consisting of an Ointment, to be used locally, and a Tonic, which acts quickly through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, building up the System, and making you less liable to "colds."

Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Jesse Miller, Sr., Jesse Miller, Jr.

MILLER & MILLER

DENTISTS

Dental X-Ray pictures made.

Nitrous Oxide and Oxygen administered for extractions.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

children were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Reaksecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Busby in the Swallow neighborhood.

In spite of the condition of the roads several from this neighborhood attended the Jersey sale in Maryville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Shipley moved Thursday from this neighborhood to Skidmore. This will make it quite convenient for their daughter, Miss Anna, who is a high school student there.

We understand that Alfred DeWitt and family will move to the Harry Wells farm November 1. We shall welcome the children to our school.

Douglas Wells stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McDaniel Thursday evening.

The pupils enjoyed a two-day vacation last week while their teacher, Mrs. O. K. Busby, attended the teachers' meeting in Maryville.

The agriculture class has been working on their wood projects this week while the weather was bad.

Harold Bailey injured one of his toes while jumping Thursday.

L. O. Reaksecker saved his wood last Saturday. Busby Bros., William Dawson and Chas. Yahrmark helped him.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Reaksecker heard Gov. Hyde in Maryville last Thursday.

GARRETT ITEMS.

R. M. New vaccinated his hogs this week.

Mr. John Dooley attended sale Wednesday and purchased two fine Jersey cows.

J. C. Wells was a passenger Wednesday morning enroute to St. Joseph. The stock exhibit is in full sway in that city and is attracting many of our farmers.

Many of our farmers shipped hogs this week.

The roads are very rough from so much rain and the inability of our men to find time to work them.

Our school is enjoying the hot lunch. We serve only one dish each day. This week we had potato soup; mashed potatoes; hot chocolate; noodles and chicken.

J. P. Deardorff is making a general clean-up on his farm by way of storing machinery, burning trash and getting ready for cold weather and corn shucking.

Mrs. Healy is employed as nurse in the home of Mrs. Crane of Maryville.

Long Branch

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Flores and son Junior of Pickering spent Sunday at Mrs. Matie Lawson's.

Mr. E. R. Carter of St. Joseph spent Tuesday night at the home of J. C. McMahon.

Mrs. Will McMahon is staying in Maryville with Otis Shankel who is in the hospital.

Mrs. Mary Barton has purchased a new Edison victrola.

Mr. Alex Grimit took a load of chickens to Parnell Wednesday.

Mrs. W. E. Bloomfield spent Wednesday afternoon helping Mrs. Ira Blanton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hefflin and son Richard were present at the surprise given to Mrs. Lucretia Hefflin on her seventy-ninth anniversary held at the home of R. M. Hefflin.

Those present at a dinner given by Mrs. Lucia Blakeman of Orrsburg Sunday were Mr. E. R. Carter of St. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McMahon, Eldora McMahon, Mrs. Mary Barton, and Raymond Curtis and Lillah Blakeman.

Mrs. Dale Birkenholz and son Dale Junior spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hefflin.

Cecil Brown came home last Sunday from Kansas City where he had been spending the last month.

Mrs. Elias Brown is recovering from a recent sick spell.

"Iowa girls demand military training." These stories are so exaggerated. All they want is the right to bare arms.—Emporia Kansas Gazette.

CUT FLOWERS

Chrysanthemums, carnations, dahlias and roses. Large shipment of bulbs just arrived. Choice potted blooming plants and ferns at reasonable price.

KISSINGER GREENHOUSES

Block south of Hospital. Hanamo 374.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

SEE

The Sheet Metal Shop.

Farmers 065. North Main

Hanamo 325.

SEE

Lloyd Geist

THE WEIR FURNACE MAN.

And MOIST warm air—you get them both in the WEIR.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

SEE

The Sheet Metal Shop.

Farmers 065. North Main

Hanamo 325.

SEE

Lloyd Geist

THE WEIR FURNACE MAN.

And MOIST warm air—you get them both in the WEIR.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads.

SEE

The Sheet Metal Shop.

Farmers 065. North Main

Hanamo 325.

WINNERS QUITMAN FAIR ANNOUNCED

(Continued from page 1)

Best plain sewing—Mary Grimsley.
Best quilt blocks—Lucile McGinnis.
Best patching—Loeie Winslow.
Best loaf of bread—Edna McGinnis.
Best loaf cake—Thelma Milton.
Best layer cake—Verna Owens.
Best plate of cookies—Edna McGinnis.
Best two crust pie—Thelma Milton.
Best one crust pie—Laura Grace Porter.
Best pound of butter—Theo Sharp.
Best glass of grape jelly—Aletha Ruth Johnson.
Best glass of plum jelly—Lois Thompson.
Best collection of jelly—Thelma Hull.
Best can of peaches—Lucile Duncan.
Best can of cherries—Helen Young.
Best can of beans—Mary Ruth Sharp.
Best can of peas—Roberta Spangler.
Best plates of apples—Byron Young.
Best plate of pears—Byron Young.
Best peck of sweet potatoes—Adrian Veach.
Best peck of turnips—Wilma Logan.
Best peck of potatoes—Neva Smith.
Best peck of beets—Ernest Owens.
Best plate of peppers—Joseph Johnson.
Largest pumpkin—Ada Harris.
Largest watermelon—Carl Spangler.
Largest squash—Eldon Veach.
Largest head of cabbage—Eva Winslow.
Best peck of wheat—Herman Thompson.
Best peck of oats—Harold Sharp.
Best peck of timothy—Martha Grimsley.
Best peck of rye—Byron Young.
Best ten ears of yellow corn—Lucile Duncan.
Best ten ears of white corn—J. E. Williams.
Best ten ears of red corn—Earl Wyman.
Sweepstakes on one ear—Lucile Duncan.
Best pen of white leghorns—Charles Donahue.
Best pen of plymouth rocks—Lucile McGinnis.
Best pen of brown orpingtons—James Stevens.
Best pen of brown leghorns—Ralph Cooper.
Best pen of Rhode Island Reds—Rosella Spangler.
Best pen of white wyandottes—Eugene Johnson.

Miss Culver Teaching School 34, Clearmont

Miss Cecil Culver of near Clearmont is substituting for Miss Lorena Palmer at the school which Miss Palmer teaches, No. 34 which is east of Clearmont.

Miss Palmer has been in St. Joseph where she underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday at a hospital in St. Joseph. Miss Culver was in Maryville today conferring with Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools on some of the school work.

No Court Today

Circuit court was not in session today as there were no cases scheduled for trial. Court will again meet next Tuesday when the case of R. P. Duncan vs. A. W. Gilleland for damages will be tried. This case comes here on a change of venue from Gentry County.

The jury in the case of the City of Hopkins against Perry Chambers, appeal police court, found him not guilty.

Novelty Shop Reopens

The Novelty Shop reopened for business today in its new location at the Snoderly Music Store, 109 West Third street. A new and interesting array of gifts, ribbon novelties, decorated candles, gifts for babies and boxed prizes are on display. Miss Virginia Robinson and Miss Marie Wright are the proprietors.

BOX SUPPER

Wednesday night, Oct. 24

Knabb School

5½ miles northwest of Maryville.

Laura B. Nicholas, Teacher.

DeMolay

Permanent Degree Team meets tomorrow (Sunday)

I. O. O. F.—2 o'clock.

M. A. Peery.

Nutrition Classes for Next Week Announced

The Monday afternoon class in food selection will be conducted by Miss Mildred Smith, nutrition specialist of the Nodaway County Red Cross Chapter, at 3:30 o'clock at the Washington school building. The Tuesday evening class will meet at 7 o'clock in the Red Cross rooms. The lesson will be on "Protein Foods," and the same instruction will be given to both classes. It is not too late for those interested to join either class, as the course will be continued until the Christmas holidays. Miss Smith conducted the classes in Skidmore and Graham yesterday.

Pickering

(O. G. Nul).

W. B. Estes and family of Randolph la., spent last Sunday here with the family of his brother, A. L. Estes, and returned home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carter and daughter, Alma, and their son, Jesse Carter, started last Sunday for Bloomington, Ind., where they will visit relatives. Jesse Carter will return home in two or three weeks, and the remainder of the party may spend most of the winter in Indiana.

Edgar Curtiss and family of Sidney, la., spent last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Judd near Mingo Valley, returning home Sunday afternoon. Mr. Curtiss is a brother of Mrs. Judd.

Raymond Wagner and J. S. May drove to Huron, South Dakota last week and arrived home on Thursday of this week. They were accompanied home by Mrs. H. H. Wagner, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Lock at Huron for the past two months.

Mrs. W. E. Bosch and three children of Stanberry visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones last Sunday.

Dr. E. L. Crowson was taken to the hospital at Maryville the first of the week on account of a relapse after having an operation performed about a month ago. He is reported as being somewhat improved at this time and expects to get home in another week.

Mrs. Roy Wolfers is quite ill from a bad cold and asthma this week, while her condition is not considered serious, she will probably be confined to her bed for a few days.

D. H. McGinnis left Tuesday for Rochester, Minn., to visit his wife who has been in a hospital there for the past two weeks. If her condition will permit she will return home with him the last of this week.

George Swaney is attending the stock show at St. Joseph this week and will probably purchase some stock cattle to put on his pasture.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Fakes and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Null and daughter, Mary Katherine, drove to St. Joseph Friday morning to attend the stock show and look after other business matters.

Methodist Church

Our first quarterly meeting will be held at Myrtle Tree Sunday evening, October 28.

While the church has not observed Children's Week in all its features, the pastor will preach a special sermon to children Sunday morning. A junior choir will lead the music and the rite of baptism will be administered to such children as may be present.

The Wesleyan society had a very interesting meeting Thursday afternoon 27 were present and it was arranged to have an all day meeting at the church, Thursday, October 25. The date for the annual bazaar was set for Saturday, Dec. 1.

The pastor will preach at Pickering, Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Christian Church

The women met last week and sent 4½ barrels of fruit and one barrel of potatoes to the orphan's home. Gaynor folks sent one barrel too.

There will be no services at the church here either Sunday afternoon or Monday night. This will be explained later.

The pastor will preach at Bedison Monday night. Richard Stewart will accompany him as the song leader. Let's have a crowd go down there from here.

The sermon for Sunday morning will be, "The Man Next to You." There will be a county meeting of the young folks of the county at the Tabernacle next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

Pickering School Notes

Miss Helen Strong was a high school visitor Wednesday.

Both the boys and girls teams will play Clearmont on the home court Friday evening.

Forrest Lett has been absent from school this week on account of illness. Hildred Hinton is the newly elected captain of the girls basketball team.

The pupils of Miss Walker's room are planning a Halloween program. The grade pupils are beautifying their rooms with potted plants.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads

Home Ec. Dept. Hires Miss Irene Teagarden

Miss Irene Teagarden of Missoula, Mont., has been employed by the home economics department of the State Teachers College. Miss Teagarden has been graduated from the University of Montana at Missoula, holding a B. S. degree, and has a M. S. degree from the University of Illinois. She has taught in the economics department at both of these universities.

Miss Teagarden comes to the State Teachers College highly recommended. She will assume her duties here next week.

Woman Sentenced to 25 Years Hard Labor

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Lillian Broussard, 28, charged with the murder of her husband, Eugene Broussard, 25, was today sentenced to twenty-five years of hard labor, after the jury deliberated fourteen hours.

After withstanding the grueling cross examination of her second trial, Mrs. Broussard broke down after the jury read its verdict and was removed from the court room in a hysterical condition.

Her first trial, ten days ago, resulted in a hung jury. The daughter of the Reverend Mr. Kelley, a Kansas minister, Mrs. Broussard fought a losing battle of but three days' duration, pleading that she shot her war veteran husband to death in their apartment here September 16, only "after life with him had become unbearable." The slain youth also had been married before, residing at the time of his first marriage in San Antonio. He was a cousin of Senator Broussard of Louisiana.

DeMolays Plan Study of Citizenship Course

To Meet Once a Month and Discuss papers sent Out By State Order—Class To Be Taken In Oct. 29

The State Conclave of the DeMolays is sponsoring a monthly class in citizenship in which all DeMolays are expected to take part. The State Conclave will send out the question for discussion every month to the various chapters throughout the state in advance and these are to be studied by the local divisions.

The Maryville Chapter of DeMolays plan to have this work at different times than the regular meeting night. A speaker from the community will be secured to address the chapter on the questions sent out by the state organization which will be followed by an open discussion by all members. In this way national and state issues will be discussed, giving the members a more thorough understanding of their government and to its proceedings.

On Monday, 29th of this month a class of candidates will be taken into the local Maryville chapter. The degree team has been asked to meet tomorrow afternoon for a drill in the degree work. A large class is expected to be taken in the last of the month as this is the first class for some time in Maryville.

Returns From Kansas City

I. E. Tulloch, who has been a delegate of Nodaway Lodge 470 to the three-day meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of the state, returned home last evening. Mr. Tulloch had opportunity to see one of the baseball games between Baltimore and Kansas City and the Priest of Pallas parade.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads

Road Meeting at Jeff. City Monday

A meeting of committees from organizations interested in the speeding up of Missouri's road program has been called for Monday, in Jefferson City.

Invitations to attend the conference have been extended to members of the Special Senate Committee, the House Good Roads Committee, and to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. Representatives of the Automobile Club of Missouri will be present from every section of the state. Many members of the Senate and House Committees already have expressed their intention of attending.

The Special Committee of the Automobile Club of Missouri was appointed after a conference between the Governors of the Club and the Chairman of the State Highway Commission, at which time the Governors voted unanimously in favor of speeding up the road program to enable completion of the roads to be constructed under the $60,000,000 bond issue by 1928. The committee has conferred with other interested organizations throughout the state to ascertain their sentiment on the question. No recommendations as to the method in which Missouri's road program is to be speeded up have been made either by the Governors or the Special Committee of the Automobile Club. Any legal method which promises to be productive of results will receive their careful consideration.

The conference in Jefferson City on October 22 promises to be the most important constructive road meeting ever held in this state. The volume of tourist traffic in Missouri at the present time is said to have a monetary value of $10,000,000 annually. The elimination of the unfavorable advertising given Missouri because of her road conditions will increase the number of tourists visiting the state to an appreciable extent.

Representative William Job, a member of the good roads committee of the house, will leave for Jefferson City in the morning to attend the meeting.

Barnard Boy Injured in Basketball Game

Lorris Cotter, a member of the Barnard basketball team, suffered a dislocated elbow yesterday while he was playing in a game with Guilford team at Barnard. Barnard and Guilford were playing a game in the series of the county tournament in which Guilford won, 34 to 16. This morning it was reported that Cotter was getting along all right.

Premiums to Nodaway County Totals $145

The premiums that the boys and girls of the Nodaway County Baby Beef Club won on the calves they had at the district Baby Beef Show at St. Joseph this week, were received this morning by R. A. Kinnaird, county farm bureau.

Mr. Kinnaird said this morning that the total of the premiums won by Nodaway County exhibitors was $145 out of a total of $495 offered. The money secured from the sale of the beeves owned by Nodaway County members of the club at auction after the show at the St. Joseph Stock Yards amounted to $5,178.33.

Mrs. Fred Hermann and little daughter, Charlene, of Belleville, Ill., arrived in Maryville this morning to visit Mrs. Hermann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sturm, 708 East First street.

Corn Crop Short of Last Year's Yield

(Barnard Bulletin).

The corn crop for the present year is not as good as last year on the ridge land. The bottom land, however, has a good crop and every acre down to the water's edge has a good yield.

The farmers of this community report a very good quality of corn except that there is a great amount of down corn in some sections and this corn, due to the large amount of rain we have had this autumn, is decaying very fast.

A large amount of the last year's crop remaining in the country is being shelled and shipped out, selling for around a dollar per bushel.

The present crop of corn started out to sell for around 50 cents to 60 cents per bushel; however, we are told that in some localities they are offering as much as 75 cents for November delivery, making the necessary allowance in weight.

About the same number of cattle are on feed in the community as there were last year and the prices are very satisfactory to the feeders.

There appears to be a shortage in the number of spring shoats and a still further shortage of fall pigs. The price of hogs on the market does not measure up well with the price of other live stock and is too low to feed with any assurance of profit with corn at the present price.

The fall plowing is late with very little wheat being sown. What wheat is being sown is late for the purpose of warding off the Hessian fly as much as possible.

Warranty Deeds

William D. Heekin and wife to John E. Hann and wife, lot one, block eighteen, Comstock's second addition to Conception Junction, consideration $250.

Ray E. Evans and wife to Lewis E. German all of lot nine block eight Conception Junction, consideration $2,500.

Belle Morrison, Mary Mildred Morrison, Grace L. Morison and Paul Morrison and wife to Francis M. Workman, lot two of Western Boundary, Southern Extension to Maryville, consideration $2,500.

A. Winfred Neil and wife to Nellie B. and Guy Haller, lot eleven, Western Boundary, Southern Extension to City of Maryville, consideration, $2,700.

Read Democrat-Forum Want Ads

COMING Soon to the

ELECTRIC THEATRE

MRS. WALLACE REID, in

"Human Wreckage"

A picture of human interest.

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION -

J.C. Penney Co.

Incorporated

475 DEPARTMENT STORES

STORE NO 235 MARYVILLE, MO.

Women's Quality Coats Style and Warmth at a Saving

Our coat values appeal to the woman who wants to be well dressed, and economical as well. Only the fact that we pay cash for enormous orders for our hundreds of stores enables us to make prices such as these. You'll enjoy making your selection now from this splendid showing.

Latest Styles
Quality Fabrics
and Best Workmanship

make these worthwhile values. The materials are Bolivias and striped sport fabrics, fashioned along the newest lines of the season's styles. Some have Viatka Squirrel collars for added warmth. All have excellent linings. Black, navy, brown, and kit fox. Sizes 16 to 44.

$19.75
to $49.75

Dresses of Silk Crepe Priced Astonishingly Low!

Unless you see these Silk Dresses it is hard to believe that we can really sell such garments at this low price! Only our enormous purchasing power for the hundreds of J. C. Penney Company Stores enables us to get the price concessions from manufacturers which mean these savings for you. See these wonderful values for yourself!

Newest Styles
at the Lowest Price!

Lovely Dresses of flat crepe and crepe de chine, becomingly styled for women and misses. Pleating, frilling, silk braid and ribbon trim many, while colored silk embroidery adds to the attractiveness of others. The colors are black, brown, navy, and cocoa.

Sizes 16 to 44

$14.75